POWELL AND UNWIN MUST STAND TRIAL

Social Credit Adviser and Member Committed on Four Serious Charges

OFFENDING PAMPHLET PAID FOR BY PROVINCE

EDMONTON, Oct. 21 (P).—George F. Powell, technical adviser to the Social Credit Board of Alberta, and Joseph H. Unwin, M.P.P. for Edmonton, were committed for trial and released on bail of $20,000 each today on four charges developing from distribution of a pamphlet alleged to contain libel.

The four charges against each were counselling to murder, seditious libel and two charges of publishing a defamatory libel knowing it to be false against Mr. Powell and then applied on the other three charges against Mr. Powell and the four charges against Mr. Unwin.

Immediately after all evidence of the charge had been submitted, Magistrate A. H. Gibson adjourned the court while bail was arranged before Mr. Justice W. R. Howson. The two men were then formally committed to trial and released on bail.

WITNESS AGAINST POWELL

Mr. Unwin, who said he had discussed with Mr. Powell the pamphlet entitled "Bankers' Toodles," on which the four charges against each man were based, gave evidence as a witness in the charges against Mr. Powell. Twelve other witnesses, including S. W. Field, K.C., and Senator W. A. Griesbach, were heard.

About 15,000 copies of the pamphlet which named nine men as "bankers' toadies" were produced in court after having been seized on October 2 at the office of the Alberta Social Credit League. The charges against Mr. Powell, who came to Edmonton from London as a Government adviser last June, Continued on Page 2, Column 3

OFFICER SAVES MAN IN WATER

Provincial Policeman Rescues Would-Be Suicide in Alberni Canal

PORT ALBERNI, Oct. 21.—Constable Allan Tannahill, of the local detachment of the Provincial Police force, is being given credit for saving the life of a visitor to this city, a resident from Vancouver decided that life was hardly worth while. He hired a taxicab and instructed the driver to drive to the waterfront. Upon arrival he paid the fare, shook hands with the driver, and then jumped off the end of the wharf. It was quite dark, being about midnight. The startled taxi-driver lost no time in obtaining the assistance of Constable Tannahill and Constable Beaumont, who were not far away.

With a flashlight Tannahill saw the man about a foot under the water and sinking towards the bottom of the harbor. Tearing off his coat but otherwise fully clothed, the officer dove into the water and grasped the drowning man by the hair.

LEND ASSISTANCE

In the meantime, Beaumont and the cab-driver had secured a row-boat. The unconscious man was dragged ashore and taken to the hospital, where he was given treatment. Yesterday he was fully recovered, and appeared in the police court charged with attempted suicide.

Through his solicitor, Gordon Campbell, he pleaded guilty, and was fined $50, which sum, it was understood, would meet certain costs which the city was put to the test.

"Life looks swell now," he said, smiling, as he left the court.

Constable Tannahill is wondering about his suit of clothes and wrist watch, which were ruined, and his pocketbook, which was lost.

River Dwellers Seek Safety

Tens of thousands of Shanghai's waterfront dwellers, who make their homes aboard junks moored where the Szechow empties into the Whangpoo, are fleeing their picturesque habitat. Scores of steam tugs daily drag a train of junks, as depicted in this picture, through the Whangpoo's tributaries, seeking safety for the refugees.

To Hold Inquiry Into Schools of Greater Victoria

Minister of Education Announces Investigation to Be Carried Out by Departmental Officials to Ascertain Whether Fulllest Advantages Are Being Derived by Pupils

COMPREHENSIVE inquiry into the operations of the schools in Greater Victoria will be launched by the Department of Education. In making the announcement, Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, stated that the investigation will be conducted by Government school inspectors and possibly other departmental officials. The minister said that the municipal school inspector will take an active part in the proceedings.

Information received from the Department of Education was that nothing startling was anticipated. The plan, it was set out, will gather information that may be for improving, if possible, the workings of the schools in the districts included in the area known as Greater Victoria.

Those charged with the survey will be named later, but it is not expected that the report will be available until February or March. "The departmental officials conducting the general inspection will be pleased to hear the views of the City Council, Board of School Trustees and the citizens generally during the course of the investigation," Dr. Weir stated.

BULLETS COME MYSTERIOUSLY

Vancouver Citizens Report Narrow Escapes From Unexplained Shots

VANCOUVER, Oct. 21 (P).—Pedestrian Vancouver walked furiously tonight.

There may not be any phantom gunman lurking in the shadows. It may be that imaginations have been keyed up to a nervous pitch by the recollection that one boy was killed and a woman narrowly escaped being wounded by bullets from nowhere about this time last year. But there are three persons who will take a lot of convincing.

Those three are: Warren Cathcart, who said a bullet struck a bush close to him while walking home in a south-side residential district last night.

E. B. Kensington, who said he was fired at twice in an East End district last Monday. A bullet was taken from a pole near where he was standing.

John Westover, watchman at a lumber yard, who claimed that a bullet struck the water fifty feet from where he was standing last Monday.

Police wouldn't discuss theories today, other than to suggest that persons in scattered parts of the city with low-powered rifles were taking pot-shots at distant targets. There was no explanation as to why all the shooting was done after sunset.

PUT UTMOST POWER INTO DRIVING FORCE

Japanese Make Desperate Attempt to Pierce Chinese Defence Lines

DEFENDERS ATTACK FROM THREE SIDES

SHANGHAI, Oct. 22 (P).—Intense fighting broke out to the northwest of Shanghai today, in the vicinity of Tazang, where the Japanese threw their utmost offensive power in an attempt to crack the Chinese lines. The Chinese abandoned defensive tactics and poured in reinforcements to engulf the Japanese in a powerful counter-offensive.

Repeated Chinese air raids throughout last night and early today kept the Japanese anti-aircraft guns in action and subjected the city to danger from shell fragments and shrapnel.

THOUSANDS IN DANGER

Chinese authorities said last night 10,000 Japanese troops were in danger of being cut off from their base in heavy fighting at Wentaochang Creek, twelve miles northwest of Shanghai.

Forty thousand Chinese were reported driving from three sides against a wedge which the Japanese, seeking to capture Tazang, drove into the Chinese front Tuesday. The Chinese said they hoped to complete encirclement of the Japanese before reinforcements could reach the latter.

Shanghai was rocked by a two-hour artillery and aviation duel at the city's very doorstep. Chinese took the offensive when their airplanes and gun batteries in Pootung bombarded Japanese shore positions and warships along the Whangpoo River. Japanese warships replied with heavy gunfire.

Tensin dispatches reported Japanese troops were driving into the city. Continued on Page 2, Column 5

CENTRAL GROUP PLANS MEETING

Conservative Nominating Convention Date Is to Be Set on November 3

Date, time and place of a Conservative nominating convention for the Federal by-election here will be set at a central executive meeting in Campbell Building headquarters at 8 o'clock on the evening of November 3, according to F. A. Willis, secretary of the Victoria Conservative Association.

Mr. Willis stated ward associations would select nominating convention delegates on the following dates: Ward One, October 28; Ward Two, November 2; Ward Three, October 29; Ward Four, November 1; Ward Five, October 27; Oak Bay, October 25, and Esquimalt, November 3. All the above meetings will be held in the Campbell Building.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

JAPAN MAY PLEAD FOR MORE TIME

TOKYO, Oct. 22 (P).—A Foreign Office spokesman indicated today that Japan will plead a lack of time in which to make preparations and ask a postponement of the nine-power conference on the Chinese-Japanese situation. The spokesman said the Cabinet Council is not expected to decide whether Japan will attend the October 30 meeting at Brussels until next Tuesday, after which Imperial sanction must be obtained. "We certainly do not have time to administer all this business."

FEDERAL COMMISSION FIXES MARITIME WAGES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (P).—The United States Maritime Commission struck tonight at a major cause of labor difficulties in the American Merchant Marine, by fixing minimum wage scales and "reasonable working conditions" for 16,000 officers and men on Government-subsidized lines. The commission's order, which provided also for minimum manning scales, becomes effective November 1.

ARRESTS MAY BREAK FUR SMUGGLING RING

CARSON CITY, Nevada, Oct. 21 (P).—A United States Federal agent announced tonight one man has been arrested and two are sought in what he termed the "biggest heaver fur smuggling ring in history." George H. Riddick, special agent of the United States biological survey division of game management, said he arrested Cyrus Shuter at Boise, Idaho, as a key figure in the case.

JEAN BATTEN TAKES OFF FROM KARACHI

KARACHI, India, Oct. 21 (P).—Jean Batten left here at 2:47 a.m. today (9:47 p.m. Thursday, G.M.T.) for Baera, the next leg on her attempt at establishing a new solo flight record from Australia to England.

THREE SAN QUENTIN CONVICTS STABBED

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Oct. 21 (P).—Three San Quentin convicts were stabbed, prison authorities said tonight, in two separate affairs in the yard of the prison, late today.

PRESIDENT AND POLICEMAN EXCHANGE SHOTS

HAVANA, Oct. 21 (P).—The newly-elected President of the Havana Provincial Council and a Spanish policeman were wounded gravely in a shooting affray in the council chamber here. Both accused the other of firing the first shot.

Big Irish Hospital Sweepstakes Draw To Be Started Today

DUBLIN, Oct. 21 (P).—Huge drums of fortune will whirl tomorrow for the twenty-second draw of the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes. The current draw is on the Cesarewitch race at Newmarket on Wednesday, with thirty-seven probable starters. Approximately £1,600,000 will be paid out in prize money from the draw. Every one whose ticket draws a horse is guaranteed a minimum of £300—the prize announced today for horses already scratched.

CAMPS USED AS PRISONS

Vancouver Men Convicted of Obstructing Police Going To Special Quarters

British Columbia police officials tonight prepared to reopen Federal Government relief camps at two Fraser Valley centres as twenty-nine more unemployed men went to jail for obstructing Vancouver police.

Today's sentences in Vancouver police court, twenty-eight for one month and one for two weeks, lifted the total for this week to 125. The charges were laid after the jobless men refused to obey police orders that they stop soliciting funds on downtown streets.

Overcrowding of the Provincial prison in Burnaby municipality and in the Vancouver jail was responsible for announcement by authorities that the camps at Deroche and Harrison Mills would be converted into temporary "prison camps."

OAKALLA OVERCROWDED

Warden Walter Owen, of Oakalla Prison, Tuesday told Vancouver police heads his institution would hold no more unemployed from Vancouver. Meanwhile, the city jail was also overfilled, and sixty prisoners had no sleeping accommodation.

Warden Owen said about sixty men would comprise the first group to be removed to the camps, where they will work on roads under police guard. The warden said he did not expect customary strict prison supervision would be needed, since the men "are not really considered as criminals."

Cost of maintaining the camps will be borne by the British Columbia Government. Continued on Page 6, Column 6

Dog Menacing Pupils Bites Man Teacher

LADYSMITH, Oct. 21. — John Gourlay, teacher on the staff of the public school here, had his arm badly lacerated when he attempted to remove a snarling dog that menaced school children in their ranks as they prepared to enter school yesterday morning.

Two others of the staff came to his assistance, and it took their combined efforts to pry the animal from Mr. Gourlay's arm. The injured teacher was given medical attention by Dr. D. P. Hanington. Provincial Police later disposed of the dog.

Great Britain Will Seek Peaceful Solution of Oriental Problem

COMMONS DEBATE FOREIGN POLICIES

LONDON, Oct. 21 (P).—Terminating talk of economic sanctions, economic pressure and force in the Sino-Japanese imbroglio a "mistake," Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons tonight Great Britain would seek a "peaceful solution of the problem" at the coming nine-power conference.

He also told the Commons repeated and most categorical assurances had come from the Italian Government that it had no intentions of annexing Spanish territory.

When this provoked derisive laughter from the Opposition benches the Prime Minister added:

ACCEPTS ASSURANCES

"I accept these assurances as being given in good faith. I am very glad they have been given. They relieve us of the necessity of considering a situation, which, if it had arisen, might have made a material change in the military conditions of the Western Mediterranean and would have been a matter of serious concern to His Majesty's government."

The Prime Minister wound up a long and searching debate on foreign affairs in the first session of the Commons following the Summer recess.

After he spoke the House approved a government motion to adjourn by a vote of 204 to 111. Labor voted against the motion to register its disapproval of the Government's policy in Spain and the Far East.

Triumph Comes to Insurgent Troops With Gijon Taken

Last Important Government Seaport on Bay of Biscay Surrenders Without a Fight—Sixty Thousand Loyalist Troops Reported Captured or Trapped in Oviedo Mining Sector

(Copyright, 1937, by The HAVAS News Agency)

GILON, Spain, Oct. 21 (CP-Havas).—Gijon flew the red and gold insurgent banner tonight after surrendering without a fight to General Franco's victorious northern troops.

The fall of the seaport, ancient seat of the Asturian kings, marked the triumphant conclusion of an offensive which started early in the civil war with the insurgent capture of Irun and San Sebastian.

Sweeping along the Biscayan coast, General Franco's troops successively enveloped Bilbao and Santander. Gijon, last important Government seaport on the Bay of Biscay, was entered at 4:15 p.m. today, a little more than four hours after its surrender.

ASTURIANS SURRENDER

The city's investment was followed by insurgent announcement that a number of the Asturian columns laying siege to Oviedo, sixteen miles to the southwest, had surrendered. It was estimated fully 60,000 troops were involved.

GOING AHEAD ON PARTITION PLAN

British Government to Proceed With Holy Land Division Scheme

LONDON, Oct. 21 (P).—Renewed terrorist violence was reported from Palestine today as the Secretary of State for Colonial Affairs, William Ormsby-Gore, told the House of Commons Great Britain intended to go ahead with the plan for a three-way partition of the Holy Land into sovereign Arab and Jewish states and a British mandate.

Dispatches from Jerusalem told of new attacks at the Lydda airport, where severe punitive measures had been taken by the Government following the burning of sheds a few nights ago. The Iraq oil pipeline was again punctured by shots near Beisan.

SCHOOL INSPECTOR SHOT

Police hunted the assassins of Avinoam Yellin, Cambridge-educated senior inspector of Jewish schools in the Department of Education, who was shot and critically wounded today as he was entering his Mount Zion office beside the old city hall.

On the Jaffa-Jerusalem road near Motza daylight ambushers attacked a Jewish bus with a fusillade of shots. Four Jews were injured by flying glass.

TO ACT AS ADVISER

Mr. Ormsby-Gore disclosed the Government was sending Sir Charles Tegart, former high officer of the Indian police, to Palestine to advise the Government on the strengthened police administration.

The Colonial Secretary said effective action had been taken to deal with the violence growing out of Jewish and Arab animosities.

GREETED WITH WILD CHEERING

Their Majesties Tour of Yorkshire Evokes Scenes of Enthusiasm

LONDON, Oct. 21 (P).—The King and Queen returned to London tonight, concluding a three-day visit to Yorkshire.

Although the royal train was delayed by fog, a large crowd waited at Euston Station and cheered as Their Majesties drove to Buckingham Palace.

Territorials forming a guard of honor for the King and Queen outside Sheffield Town Hall were forced to cross rifles and swords to prevent crowds from overwhelming the royal car.

It was the climax of Their Majesties' three-day tour of Yorkshire in which they have officially visited the cities of Hull, York, Halifax, Bradford, Leeds and Wakefield, evoking scenes of enthusiasm throughout the country.

As the King and Queen appeared on the steps of the Sheffield Town Hall a huge crowd, cheering wildly, pressed into the roadway, closing the passage police had been keeping open to the royal cars.

A number of women fainted and others were crushed in the press. Ambulances dashed up a few minutes before a lane was opened for the royal party.

PROPHET PROVES WHOLLY CORRECT

Stock Market Setback of Monday Predicted to the Day Three Years Ago

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21 (P).—Jerome Schotten predicted to the day the severe stock market setback of last Monday on his Christmas cards three years ago.

As a navigator setting a three-year course for his friends, Schotten forecast "ideal fair weather" for business for 1935 and 1936, "such as would not be experienced again until 1943."

As for 1937, he said: "Variable weather and seas to August. Find yourself a good harbor until 1940. Storms commencing in September. Hurricane on stock exchange, October 18 to October 24. Caution."

Finance Minister Is Not Aspirant For Federal Seat

HON. John Hart, Minister of Finance of the Province, announced yesterday his decision to remain in the provincial field of politics rather than enter the Federal arena.

Mr. Hart announced that he had made up his mind not to allow his name to go forward to contest the vacancy which had been created by the death of Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie.

COST TO TAXPAYER

The actual cost per year to the individual taxpayer was explained by the reeve as representing one-third of a mill, or an actual increase in taxation on a $3,000 home on a $500 lot of sixty-six cents. He believed the reduction of insurance rates would be around $1 to $1.50 per year, on a $3,000 to $4,500 policy.

REEVE EXPLAINS
At the beginning of his thirty-five-minute address, Reeve Taylor mentioned the increase in the cost of fire protection from Victoria, rising from $1,800 in 1918, to a possible $18,000, to begin the new year. He said the municipality had expended $105,000 in the last ten years on fire services and "had little of a permanent nature to show for it."

NO SITE SELECTED
In reply to a question, the reeve stated that no site for the fire hall had been selected. An allowance of $11,000 had been set aside, or estimated, as the cost of the building, but the council believed this figure would be lowered.

HOMES INCREASED
To show the rapid increase in home building in Oak Bay, the reeve declared that from 1925 to 1937, a total of 1,012 new homes were constructed to bring the total to 2,250 now. He said the new fire department would have the approval of fire underwriters, and the cost of the department would be more than offset by the amount of reduction in fire insurance rates.

POWELL AND UNWIN MUST STAND TRIAL

Mr. and Mrs. Unwin, Government Whip in the Alberta Legislature, were laid on October 5.

When Senator Griesbach, who laid the information on which the charges were based, and Mr. Field were called as witnesses, George H. Steer, K.C., conducting the prosecution, read definitions of a "toady." Asked by Mr. Steer if the word could be applied to any of the men named in the pamphlet, both declared no.

ORDERED PRINTING

Mr. Unwin said he had ordered the printing of the pamphlet but did not know who had composed the original copy and the proof which had been sent to him by the printers, Armstrong & Co., Ltd. Mr. Unwin said he first saw the original copy in Mr. Powell's office, and when Mr. Powell asked him what he thought of it, Mr. Unwin said he remarked that he thought it "quite funny."

After the proof had been returned from the printers, Mr. Unwin said he had shown it to Mr. Powell. Between them they had decided there was too much waste space and Mr. Unwin said he had ordered some changes. About 4,000 copies which he had taken to his home were burned, said Mr. Unwin.

PAID FOR BY PROVINCE

Several other pamphlets which Mr. Unwin had ordered printed were identified by him in court. When Mr. Steer recalled the invoice for some of the pamphlets were made out to the United Democrats, Mr. Unwin said the organization was universally known although it had no rules, fees or constitution.

C. M. Laing, provincial auditor, gave evidence on payment of $624.44 for five pamphlets, the printing of which had been approved by the Alberta Social Credit Board from its funds. R. A. Anderson, clerk of the Executive Council and of the Legislative Assembly, produced orders-in-council authorizing Social Credit Board printing.

HAD RIGHT TO EJECT MEMBER

Berg, who said under cross-examination he was an organizer for the Loggers and Sawmill Workers' Industrial Union, described their reception at the camp.

He said Cameron asked Harnbourne to "sign a certain paper," but the superintendent refused and "grabbed Cameron and shoved him back."

Cameron said he disregarded a sign reading "Private road—no throughfare," when he visited the logging company because, he said, it was Dominion Government property. The road, he said, was the only one leading to the postoffice.

Magistrate Walker said there was "no question" of the right of any individual or corporation to protect his or its own property, providing that protection was given in a sane manner. He said Mr. Cameron was "outside any territory where he had jurisdiction."

VOTERS' LIST IS HURRIED

Public Asked to Co-operate With Registrar of Electors For Coming Poll

The initial step in regard to taking the vote of the electorate of Victoria in the by-election on November 29 to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons at Ottawa is now underway. This is the preparation of the voters' list under the registrar of electors for the riding, John L. Clay.

Starting on Monday there will be a house-to-house canvass by enumerators working under Mr. Clay, who will visit each home in pairs and thus check up on the enumeration. Mr. Clay asks that the public assist in every way possible so that the work may be properly carried out. By 5 o'clock on Friday evening, October 29, the lists prepared by the enumerators must be in the hands of Mr. Clay in his office, 802 Bank of Toronto Building.

As the time is limited in which to carry out the work, Mr. Clay is asking that enumerators who have been selected from the various political parties, upon the receipt of the cards sent to them to come at the time specified on the card to his office to be officially sworn in and instructed.

Following the taking of the list of voters by the enumerators, there will be a court of revision held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 4, 5 and 6, when any qualified voters who have not been put on the lists may have their names entered. At this court of revision, the right to strike off any names improperly entered will be given.

There are 210 enumerators to enter on the work of going from house to house over specified districts. The existing list is cancelled, and only those whose names are entered on the lists now to be prepared will be able to vote at the by-election.

Funeral Services For Engineer on Saturday Morning

VANCOUVER, Oct. 21 (P)—Funeral services will be held here Saturday morning for George Herbert Doster, seventy-one, superintendent engineer for Union Steamships, Ltd.

Mr. Doster died Wednesday. He had held his Union Steamships position for twelve years. For twenty-six years before his appointment, he was senior engineer on various ships of the company's coastal fleet.

Mr. Doster was born in England, and worked in British and Scottish marine shops before coming to the Pacific Coast in 1899.

He is survived by his widow, and one son, Duncan, here.

ISLAND COAL IS SHOWING GAINS

Output for September Was Far Ahead of Same Month in Past Year

According to figures issued by James Dickson, chief inspector of mines for British Columbia, the coal production on Vancouver Island had a very substantial increase in September as compared with the same month of the year 1936.

Total production at the Island mines is given at 70,142 tons, against 56,742 tons in September, 1936.

In the Nicola-Princeton district, output was down from 14,109 to 12,130 tons, but in the East Kootenay area there was a 10,000-ton gain from 32,800 to 42,800 tons.

For the Province as a whole, September output was 125,415 tons against 104,282 tons last year.

Victoria Naval Men Mark Trafalgar Day With Annual Dinner

Plea Made for Greater Interest in Strength of Dominion's Sea Forces—Hon. E. W. Hamber Addresses Veterans—Mayor Attends TRAFALGAR Day, symbolical of Britain's supremacy of the sea, was fittingly celebrated by the Naval Veterans' Branch No. 42 of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., at the annual dinner held in the Hudson's Bay Company's dining-room last night, when more than 230 ex-servicemen of Imperial and Canadian navies gathered to honor Lord Nelson.

Lieutenant-Governor Hon. E. W. Hamber was the guest of honor on the right hand of H. R. Dawe, naval veterans' president, and other guests were Commander C. T. Beard, R.C.N., Esq.; Captain T. L. Thorpe-Douglas, R.N.; Commander G. H. R. Slingsby, R.N.; Brigadier D. J. MacDonald, D.S.O., M.C., district officer commanding; Mayor Andrew McGavin; Rev. Alan Gardner; G. A. Renton, chairman of the committee; Lieutenant-General Sir Percy Lake, K.C.B., K.C.M.G.; Captain R. W. McMurray, R.N.R.; W. H. Dallaway, chairman of the District Council of the Canadian Legion; Engineer-Commander G. L. Stephens, R.C.N.; Commander R. W. Wood, R.C.N.; Captain R. B. Longridge, provincial first vice-president, Canadian Legion; Lieutenant-Commander Burke, V.C., D.S.O.; Commander J. E. W. Oland, R.C.N., and Commander H. E. Reid, R.M.C.S. Fraser.

TWO MINUTES' SILENCE
Led by the chaplain, Mr. Gardiner, the gathering observed two minutes' silence in memory of departed comrades, following which the president read telegrams of greeting from many unable to attend the gathering.

The first toast after that to the King, proposed by the president, was to the Province of British Columbia, and was sponsored by Mr. Renton, second vice-president of the branch, who spoke of the rich natural resources of the well-favored province.

This gathering tonight is celebrating one of the outstanding events in the history of the British Empire," said Hon. E. W. Hamber, in reply to the toast. "It has made the Empire what it is today, giving us supremacy of the sea and establishing protection for your trade routes and connections between the outposts of the Empire, an Empire that stands for liberty, justice and peace."

DEFENCES OF PROVINCE

HIS HONOR referred to the defences of British Columbia and declared it was of the utmost importance that the youth of the province should become sea-minded. The province today, he said, was enjoying liberty and justice by the support of law and order and good government, and could demonstrate to the world the privileges it had under true democracy.

The toast to the Navy was proposed by Rev. A. Gardiner, who made an appeal for greater public interest in the naval strength of the Dominion. Commander Beard responded to the toast, forecasting a day when the Canadian Navy would come up to the state visualized by Mr. Gardiner. Captain R. W. McMurray, R.N.R., also responded on behalf of the mercantile marine.

Commander Slingsby proposed the toast to the Army and Air Force, which was responded to by Brigadier MacDonald, who spoke of the co-operation existing between the sea, land, and air forces of the Empire.

CITY OF VICTORIA

The "City of Victoria" was honored by Captain Thorpe-Douglas, and Mayor McGavin, in reply, spoke of the difficulties overcome by the city this year.

Mr. Dallaway proposed the last toast of the evening, that to the Canadian Legion, which was responded to by Sir Percy Lake and Captain Longridge.

Community singing was indulged in freely, and vocal solos were given by Arthur Jackman, and banjo solos by Jack Pittman. J. Mosop's orchestra contributed to the entertainment, and the accompaniments were played by Cecil Heston.

PUT UTMOST POWER INTO DRIVING FORCE

pan's North China command was making extensive preparations for further invasion of Shantung Province, where Chinese reports said Japanese forces had been retiring northward recently under pressure by the forces of General Han Puchu, the provincial governor.

Japanese denied there had been any retirement and declared they were preparing for a big advance on Tsinan, capital of Shantung, just south of the Yellow River.

Japanese officers at Peiping denied reports of Chinese victories in Shansi Province, but admitted their planes penetrating the province from north and east were meeting unusually stubborn resistance.

Chinese dispatches said a Chinese "dare-to-die" battalion raided a Japanese air base at Yangpingpao in North Shansi and destroyed twenty-four planes at a cost of 100 men killed.

Chinese airplane squadrons moving to attack the Japanese near Shanghai took new routes today to avoid flying over foreign areas. This followed a protest to the Nanking Government by United States Ambassador Nelson Johnson, who pointed out the danger to foreign lives when bomb-laden planes flew over the heart of Shanghai.

Third Fairbridge Farm School Ready For Training Boys

Andrew Reid, Chairman of New South Wales Branch, Tells About 1,400-Acre Farm at Molong, the Second in Australia

The third Fairbridge Farm School to be established under the Kingsley Fairbridge scheme is about ready to receive the advance party of boys from the Old Country, Andrew Reid, chairman of the New South Wales project, told newspapermen on the arrival of the Aorangi here yesterday from Australia. Mr. Reid is en route to England and was met here by Colonel H. T. Logan, of the Vancouver Island branch of the schools.

Mr. Reid stated that the first school had been established at Pinjarra, Western Australia; the second one on Vancouver Island; while the third one is at Molong, about 100 miles from Sydney, New South Wales. The first batch of fifty boys, chosen by the executive of Fairbridge Farm Schools, Incorporated, the parent body in England, are now on their way out to commence their apprenticeships.

DEPENDS ON SUPPORT

The ages of the first group for Molong range between nine and ten. First drafts will be restricted to boys, but when the scheme becomes well established, a number of girls will be sent out for training. The Molong Farm school will ultimately accommodate about 220 children, and if the support accorded the movement in New South Wales warrants extension, other farm schools will be instituted there.

The movement to found the Molong farm was sponsored by the Rhodes Fellowship of New South Wales. The British Government, the Commonwealth Government and

Tragedy of Big French Liner Is Recalled

Breaking up the once-famous French luxury liner, L'Atlantique, in the shipbreakers' yard at Port Glasgow. The ship was completely ruined when she caught fire in the English Channel in January, 1933, with a loss of thirty-three lives. The view shows a hole in the side of the ship, the dense smoke being caused by burning oil upon which water is continually played to keep the fire under control during the process of breaking up.

The State Government are giving it support. Subsidies of three shillings and sixpence a week for each child are to be granted by the Commonwealth and State Governments, the British Government's contribution being five shillings a week for each youngster, making a total of twelve shillings, leaving about five shillings a week to be found by the sponsors of the movement.

The property at Molong comprises 1,428 acres, of which 1,000 acres are cleared for the plough and suitable for cultivation. It is 1,700 feet above sea level and in a healthy district. The first intention was to secure a tract of land near Sydney, but it was realized that this might defeat one of the main purposes of the school. The intention being that the boy immigrants should be trained essentially as farmers, it was considered that this could best be carried out by keeping them as far from the city as possible.

The boys will be under the care of a cottage mother; the farm is managed by a competent manager, while there will be several instructors, the Government providing school and teacher. The scheme in Western Australia, Mr. Reid said, provided for the training of boys until they reach fifteen years of age, but the New South Wales experiment will extend this limit several years, with the hope of placing some of the boys on their own farms.

Mr. Reid stated that conditions generally were very good in Australia. Both the wool and the wheat are commanding better prices than for some time, and the whole country is prosperous.

Mr. Reid accompanied Colonel Logan Up-Island, where the former intended to spend the day on the Vancouver Island Fairbridge Farm before continuing east on his way to England.

UNLOADED AT OGDEN POINT

Freighter Fiscus Arrived Here From St. Lawrence River Ports Yesterday

Completing discharge of 307 tons of general cargo at Ogden Point Piers, the freighter Fiscus, under charter to Vancouver-St. Lawrence Line, continued to Mainland ports at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She came in from St. Lawrence River and Atlantic Coast ports by way of Panama. Her freight for Vancouver totals 3,000 tons, and for Tacoma 2,300 tons. She will load lumber at Chemainus and Port Alberni for the United Kingdom later, according to her skipper, Captain Williams.

JEFFERSON LATE

According to John Comode, vice-president of the American Mail Line, Seattle, who was here yesterday, the next liner of the company's fleet in the North Pacific service will be almost a week late in arriving here. The Jefferson is expected to leave Yokohama tomorrow and should arrive here Tuesday, November 2. On her regular schedule the Jefferson would have come in from Far East ports next Wednesday, October 27, but she was behind time leaving here on the outward passage and on top of that encountered some typhoon weather on the other side of the Pacific.

LUMBER VESSEL

King Brothers, Langley Street shipping agents, expect the freighter Trelick at Ogden Point Piers first thing this morning. The freighter is coming here from Cowichan Bay and will load the local assembly plant for the United Kingdom.

TANNED BY SUN

Returning from holidaying in the Hawaiian Islands, E. B. Andrews, well-known Victorian, told newspapermen aboard the Aorangi that the sun had been particularly hot during his stay there, and exhibited portions of his arms to show how it had peeled the skin off. Asked if he was going to take any part in the civic election wars, he replied, "Nothing doing. I am planning to go south shortly to California for the winter."

SUCCESSFUL TOUR

The Irene Vermillion Company of theatrical stars passed through Victoria yesterday. They arrived on the liner Aorangi following a seven-month tour of Australia and New Zealand and continued to Seattle by the 4:30 ferry last evening.

The party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Dart (Irene Vermillion), Mary Dart, "Ginger" Dart, Evelyn Elias and Monelle Bruce, are really night club entertainers, and stated they had had a wonderful reception in the various cities they visited. It was the intention of the party to fill engagements in China and Japan, but the war upset the arrangements for their appearance in the Japanese and Chinese cities.

Each of the girls in the party carried a mascot. Miss Vermillion brought ashore a four-foot kangaroo called "Oppy," as well as a miniature replica called "Joey." The artists are heading south to Los Angeles, and will appear in a number of shows, starting at Seattle.

HOLIDAY CONCLUDED

Harry Douglas, Victoria agent for the Great Northern Railway and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, returned home yesterday from a three-week holiday spent mainly in railway traveling. Accompanied by Mrs. Douglas, he went as far east as Hamilton, stopping over at several places both going and coming. With the exception of the Saskatchewan drought area, the rest of Canada that he saw looked good. Saskatchewan, however, appeared to be the difficult spot. He instanced an example which, he said, was an average illustration of the situation existing there. A farmer whom he knew had 1,500 acres of wheat under cultivation and the crop returned just about 1,000 bushels.

MAINLAND WRESTLER

Jack Pogren, Vancouver fireman, came home from the American wrestling wars yesterday on the Aorangi. He stated he had taken part in forty-eight matches in Australia and New Zealand. He got a great reception "Down Under," and intends to return there again next year. Another wrestler arriving was D. J. McIntyre, who will exhibit here.

HOW TO OVERCOME PILES AND RECTAL SORENESS

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning, and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose, use the "MacFarlane" and "Vancouver" Pile Ointment, a package of Hemorrhoid and is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness, and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemorrhoid is a physician's prescription, and is highly recommended. It is easy to use, and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use, may be had at such a reasonable cost.

RIVER PORT EXPORTS UP

New Westminster Shipments for Nine Months Ahead of 1936 Period

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 21.—Deep-sea shipments of lumber, fruit and mining exports from this port for the first nine months of 1937 showed gains over totals for the same period last year, according to a report issued today by the New Westminster Harbor Commissioners.

According to the totals, the 187,192,908 board feet of lumber exported this year was a gain of nearly three million over the 1936 figure.

In mineral exports the greatest advances were made in shipment of zinc concentrates and ammonium phosphate. The total of 39,622 tons of zinc was double last year's figure, and 9,422 tons of phosphates was four times the 1936 amount. Apple shipments, which in 1936 trebled 1935 totals, trebled again this year with 538,851 boxes shipped. Less than 5,000 boxes of pears were exported last year, but this year 76,202 boxes passed through the port. Imports declined in tonnage, the report said, particularly in corn, binder twine and phosphate rock. Rice imports showed a slight gain.

TRAVEL FROM SOUTH LIGHT

Liner Aorangi Here Yesterday With Passengers, Mails and Cargo

Because it is Summer time in Australia, travel this way from the Southern Dominion is slower than usual. The Canadian-Australasian Ms. Aorangi, Captain William Martin, commander, arriving yesterday morning from Australia, New Zealand, Fiji and Hawaii, had a total of 131 passengers aboard in all classes, the greater number leaving the liner here for destinations in the United States. Mails and cargo were also landed and some local freight put aboard the liner before she continued to Vancouver at noon. She docked shortly after 9 o'clock.

Among the passengers coming in on the Aorangi were: E. B. Andrews, Victoria, who has been holidaying in Hawaii; Col. Andrew Reid, chairman of the Fairbridge Farm Schools, New South Wales; C. M. Longfield, member of the State Electricity Commission of Victoria, Australia; W. A. Bartlett, general manager at Sydney for Dunlop Perdiu Rubber Company, and A. J. Tanner, cattleman, Sydney.

Other prominent travelers included: Messrs. F. G. A. W. and D. J. Coles, of G. J. Coles Limited, Australian chain store operators; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Gaydon, the former being connected with the Australian Gaslight Company; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. and Miss J. M. Ciskner, the former being general manager of the Bank of Australia, Melbourne; R. O. C. King, connected with the Department of Agriculture, Australia, and Mr. and Mrs. K. Dart and members of the Irene Vermillion Theatrical Troupe, returning from a tour of New Zealand and Australia.

Wife (finally ready to go to the theatre)—How do I look, dear?" Husband (critically)—Fine, but you haven't got your lips on straight."

Returning from holidaying in the Hawaiian Islands, E. B. Andrews, well-known Victorian, told newspapermen aboard the Aorangi that the sun had been particularly hot during his stay there, and exhibited portions of his arms to show how it had peeled the skin off. Asked if he was going to take any part in the civic election wars, he replied, "Nothing doing. I am planning to go south shortly to California for the winter."

The Irene Vermillion Company of theatrical stars passed through Victoria yesterday. They arrived on the liner Aorangi following a seven-month tour of Australia and New Zealand and continued to Seattle by the 4:30 ferry last evening.

The party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Dart (Irene Vermillion), Mary Dart, "Ginger" Dart, Evelyn Elias and Monelle Bruce, are really night club entertainers, and stated they had had a wonderful reception in the various cities they visited. It was the intention of the party to fill engagements in China and Japan, but the war upset the arrangements for their appearance in the Japanese and Chinese cities.

Each of the girls in the party carried a mascot. Miss Vermillion brought ashore a four-foot kangaroo called "Oppy," as well as a miniature replica called "Joey." The artists are heading south to Los Angeles, and will appear in a number of shows, starting at Seattle.

Harry Douglas, Victoria agent for the Great Northern Railway and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, returned home yesterday from a three-week holiday spent mainly in railway traveling. Accompanied by Mrs. Douglas, he went as far east as Hamilton, stopping over at several places both going and coming. With the exception of the Saskatchewan drought area, the rest of Canada that he saw looked good. Saskatchewan, however, appeared to be the difficult spot. He instanced an example which, he said, was an average illustration of the situation existing there. A farmer whom he knew had 1,500 acres of wheat under cultivation and the crop returned just about 1,000 bushels.

Jack Pogren, Vancouver fireman, came home from the American wrestling wars yesterday on the Aorangi. He stated he had taken part in forty-eight matches in Australia and New Zealand. He got a great reception "Down Under," and intends to return there again next year. Another wrestler arriving was D. J. McIntyre, who will exhibit here.

EXPANDING PATRONAGE

Mr. Mitchell Hepburn's new Cabinet for Ontario contains 14 ministers. That of the Dominion Government has 15 ministers. Quebec has 11 ministers. Great Britain is governed by 20 ministers. The cry that has gone up from one end of the Dominion to the other that there is too much overhead in government has fallen on official ears that are deaf to the plea for economy. The era of spendthrift zeal in taking care of party politicians is expanding, as has been illustrated by Mr. Hepburn. It is to receive another illustration in British Columbia at the forthcoming session of the Legislature when provision is to be made for a Department of Trade and Commerce which is to be controlled by a fully-fledged minister and which, in its operations, will be little better than a department for collecting data, including statistics.

In commenting on Mr. Hepburn's Cabinet, The Ottawa Journal says its size is due to the collectivism, "if not State Socialism that rules." The tendency throughout this country continues to be to multiply officialdom. It is the desire of certain governments to be liberal in the disbursement of public funds to party favorites. They are taking advantage of the public belief that the issues of the time can be solved by an increasing bureaucracy. There is a wholly erroneous view that patronage in government has declined. It is probably more rampant today than it ever was, and the more governmental departments are created the more vicious it becomes. There is not a government in the Dominion today that does not regard patronage as a cardinal principle of its policy. Government is helped in its distribution of this patronage by the public's pathetic belief in the efficacy of the State to cure so many human ills.

IN ETHIOPIA

Mr. E. W. Polson Newman, who has been travelling in Ethiopia, corrects some misapprehensions about conditions there. What is known as "guerilla warfare" against Italian rule is carried out by brigand bands who have been a long-established curse of the country. In other words, there is no revolt against Italian authority. This is the verdict of first-hand information by one who claims he knows some of the sources of so-called "Ethiopian news," benevolent as well as malevolent, and who is surprised at the ease with which unbelievable reports are accepted at their face value. Mr. Newman says:

"Native submission and pacification are already complete with very few exceptions. The Italians, however, want de jure recognition (a) to assure a stable basis for an Anglo-Italian rapprochement, and (b) to remove, in Europe as well as in Africa, an element of uncertainty and misunderstanding which is detrimental to general appeasement in the international situation. Those who oppose recognition probably do so partly in the belief that they are helping the Ethiopians, whereas in fact they are only sponsoring the hopeless cause of a small section of the former ruling caste outside Abyssinia. This they do in opposition to the interests of the main body of Abyssinians now living contentedly under Italian rule. May I suggest that those who are still reluctant to accept my statement withhold their judgment till the newly-appointed British Consul-General in Addis Ababa has an opportunity to tour the country and make his report."

POLITICAL PUBLICITY

The Ottawa Journal complains that the London Press, in fact the British Press as a whole, paid very little attention to the recent Ontario elections. Of the three large London evening papers, only one printed the results. The London Times gave the event half a column and an editorial. It was ignored by The Express, The Daily Mail, The News-Chronicle and The Herald. The Daily Telegraph told the story in five lines, but it was not mentioned by The Manchester Guardian.

The complaint is well founded. If the Press of Great Britain were to make an answer to what The Ottawa Journal says it might well be that the result of the election showed no change in Ontario, that the political status quo was maintained, and that, at the same time as the election was held, there were other things happening more likely to have an important bearing on the destiny of mankind. These excuses, suppositious as they are, would not answer the complaint. There is too little Canadian news printed in the English Press. It is true that the London newspapers are the most cosmopolitan in the world and they have, every day, ten times the volume of news from all over the world that they can print. They are governed by the conception of printing what will interest their readers to the greatest extent, and the lack of issues of any other than parochial interest in the Ontario contest was perhaps taken into consideration. That however, does not exculpate the Press of the Motherland from failure to print the bare result of the election in the chief of Canada's provinces.

THIS FREEDOM

There is every truth in the assertion that "that which is nearest us touches us most; the passions rise highest at domestic than at Imperial tragedies." This is illustrated by the volume of criticism that has arisen in the Press all over Canada because of the attempt of the Alberta Government to muzzle it. Even the smallest newspapers in that Province have preferred their indictment against the Abernethian principle of stifling freedom of expression.

The Stettler Independent says: "People generally who live in Anglo-Saxon countries do not desire a free Press for the benefit of the publishers, but for themselves. They like to have a free Press for the same reason that they like a free public forum of any kind, so that they can give expression to their opinions, without being in danger of a stiff fine, or a life sentence. In other words, outside of Germany, Italy and Russia, the people do not care to be 'liquidated,' and a muzzled Press is the first step toward liquidation."

The Hanna Herald says: "He would indeed be bold who would attempt to write the epitaph of a free Press in Canada; not only bold, but blind and utterly reckless. Dictator! For a free Press means a free people. A muzzled Press is a shackled people. The freedom to write and print is the freedom to think and speak. It is the cultural heritage of every Canadian. Freedom of thought, freedom of religion, freedom of assembly, freedom of expression, vocal and written, are the hall-marks of Democracy. All are bound indissolubly together—the negation of one being the prohibition of all and the stamp of the Dictator. Through this freedom Premier Abernethy gained power. No one denied him the freedom he would now take from others. He was free to ridicule, criticize and denounce in print and on platform the Government of that day; and he did. Why should he seek to destroy the liberty he enjoyed? Because he is afraid; afraid more people will know the Truth of The Great Deception."

TAX REDUCTIONS

Our governments in this country might well sit at the feet of Australia and learn how to conduct their financial policies. South Australia has just made public a financial statement which gives concessions to the tune of $285,000 for the coming fiscal year. That is not a very great sum, but it is coupled with wage and salary increases, the restoration of pensions and greater unemployment relief, all of which cost $539,000. Victoria's budget shows remissions of taxation totalling $333,000. New South Wales in four years has given remissions in taxation aggregating $20,400,000, while the Commonwealth Government last year granted tax remissions amounting to $5,275,000, and this has not been the only downward movement in recent years. Australia has devised a means, through careful financing, of giving what is always the most substantial filip to prosperity.

The Toronto Globe and Mail says that the recent election campaign in Ontario was "deplorable." It was marked, it says, "by many glaring examples of petty, ward-healing politics." That is exactly how it appeared from this distance. There was not a glimmer of statesmanship in any of the speeches reported; in fact, their distinguishing mark was parochialism.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler says that "the world thinks it is moving forward, but actually it is moving backward at top speed." At least Dr. Butler says whither it is going, which General Smuts omitted to point out when he said that "humanity had struck its tent and is on the march."

THE IRISH HORSE

Credit is due the former Saorstat Government for establishing, and the present Government for retaining, the Army jumping team. This team has, both at home and abroad, shown the outstanding qualities of the Irish horse, creating records equalled by few, if any, nations of the world. This year it carried off the Nations' Cup at Lucerne and Amsterdam, and the Prince of Wales' Cup at London. Last year's successes included the Nations' Cup at Amsterdam and Nice, and the George V Cup at London. In 1935 it secured the Nations' Cup at New York. That these and many other successes have placed the Irish horse supreme in the world's opinion is evidenced by the fact that of the twenty-eight horses which represented seven nations in a recent competition, sixteen were bred in Ireland. There is a market for Irish horses from Denmark to India, from Egypt to the United States. While Britain and Northern Ireland are our best customers with nearly 9,000 horses annually, many countries, like Belgium, with 2,000, and Switzerland, with over 1,000, contribute to the prosperity of the industry—Irish Independent.

Resolves perish into vacancy, that, if executed, might have been noble works.—Henry Giles.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Fog. What a world of echoes one can hear in a fog! The midnight boat is sailing. You can tell that by the single toot she blows, in place of three, to show she moves astern. Why wake the passengers? Up on the bridge her officers stand in the swirling mist, their ears alone of use in this emergency. Another toot, and rocky walls bite off the sound with short, sharp echoes before it fairly starts; this is a narrow gap for steamers. There is the harbor lighthouse, a dim and muffled light of quite uncertain distance in the fog. The ears are best. Another toot, and now the echo lingers longer in returning to the bridge; the shores are widening out. Clang, clang, the bell buoys have their message; their place is fixed and known. Now at the harbor mouth the vessel sounds another note; short, sharp and challenging it strikes the air and rolls in widening circles as sound takes up the challenge with a measured tread, so many feet per second. No ship is heard to answer, so the course for once is clear. Another toot, and now the foghorns bay like a pack of howling dogs out in the Strait of Juan de Fuca. Harrr-arrh-umph, harrr-arrh-umph; it's Trial Island off to port, but none can see the swift occulting light. A-who, a-who, another foghorn chimes in a throaty, anxious question. Ah! Who would be aboard this night! "Here" the vessel fairly seems to speak, her whistle shortly sounding "here." Here, indeed, with eighty miles of fog to penetrate by day-break. There'll be little sleep this night for master, mates or anyone. Harrr-arrh-umph, a-who, a-who. The steamer passes out into the open strait, and coffee warms the gullets of men with reddened, tired eyes.

"Where," sounds the steamer, and finds the sound has travelled six long miles; three to the shore and three more back, as echoes gather from the points in answer. "Here—with barges," shrills a towboat, her master checking mast-lights like tar-painted pendants in the murky night; a tug and two barges, say the lights, but who can see them? "Here," sounds the steamer. "Here—with barges," replies the tug. Harrr-arrh-umph, harrr-arrh-umph, coughs Trial Island, the fog stuck tightly in its very throat. The vessels pass, and take to listening for the next voices. For minutes now the foghorns blaze in mournful rhythm. Foghorns and the fog, they share the night alone; but no, here comes a freighter outbound with a heavy cargo. Listen to her blow, a deep and mournful howl; once, twice, three times, four times sounds that eerie voice. "I want a pilot," that is her message. Listen well, now, and you'll hear the answer to her prayer. A thin, piping whistle splits the air, where, where, where, "We are coming now," responds the pilot boat. "Fine," sounds the freighter in a single toot. "Coming," pipes the answering whistle. It's a date. The pilot launch will plough her way out to the cargo vessel, following her intermittent bleats, until her lights appear. Then you will hear a quick command: "Astern there now," in three shrill whistles from the pilot boat. "Astern it is," and so the freighter loses way. The launch runs up alongside her rusty hull, and the pilot goes aboard. Seventy miles of narrow straits, wayward currents and a pea-soup fog will be his lot this night. His eyes are reddened, tired, but coffee warms his gullet, too. Harrr-arrh-umph, a-who, a-who, the foghorns stick it out alone.

Fog. On land, as well, it's fog! The policeman walks his beat with special care. You can trust him while you see him, that he knows; but this is fog. The motorman runs the last car into the street railway barn, and buttons up his overcoat to trudge two miles to home, his lunch pall in his hand. The mist swims murky before him; each street light like a gutted waxen candle, feebly glimmering in a luminous and yellowish cloud. The firebells clang. Fire engines roar out from the sheltered, cosy station house. What is the use of searchlights on a night like this? The driver turns them off, while sirens whine and groan and shriek with each change in pace, each dangerous corner. See, there it is; a roof's ablaze, with huddled figures on the porch, and yet to look at it you'd think the fog was playing tricks. Which is the smoke, and which the fog, and are those flames or tail-lights reflected in the house's windows? Fog in the hospitals. A fever patient turns wearily upon the other side. He muses fretfully, why are there foghorns? Fog in the homes; the cat is curled into a ball against the damp and chill of early morning. Her head is buried deep into her furry coat. The dog has risen, awakened by the draft from under doors. He seeks another spot away from drafts, and turns and turns about before slumping down with something like a groan to wait for daylight, and the sun, to bring back the world he knows.

Fog over all the world. The fog.

horns blare of war, of revolution, of man's distrust of fellow man. False pilots whistle in stream, saying: "I can find the way," but each way is different, leading men astray, confusing them. "Old days are gone—this is a brand new world," self-seekers shout, and, perhaps, believe it. "Your lighthouses mean nothing; honesty, plain-dealing, thrift, tolerance, divine injunction, all are carried by the board. We must plan the life of every man; it is the brand new way," they call aloud. Is it? How about the fog? Underneath the mist there is the same old world, the selfsame people; nor have they changed so much in all the years of our recorded times. Men can be led, not driven. Six thousand years ago they knew what human nature was. Keep steady in the fog, for some day there'll be vision. Ships of state will leave the shoals of doubt and find the channel known as wisdom.

Flowers in Fall

There are flowers that bloom in the Spring, and cause a renaissance of the spirit, when long Winter is past. And there are blooms that come with Autumn, in the tiled corridors of British Columbia's Legislative Buildings, when rain slants down from a grey sky. It is fashionable now for ladies to carry gaily-covered umbrellas. Because, seemingly, there are no racks where they may be hung to dry in the Provincial seat of government, they are left open, like multi-colored mushrooms, fallen sideways on their stalks, to decorate the halls of Parliament. Apparently the young things that aid in keeping the machinery of government turning are not superstitious. Time was when they would have not brought an open umbrella under any roof.—B.G.

On the Sidelines

"Chuck" Cunningham, veteran cager, who has been toasting basketballs around for approximately ten years, was on the sidelines, Wednesday evening, at the Victoria High School gymnasium, and felt anything but at home. Cunningham, a distance runner who still has a chance of making the trip to Australia with the Canadian track team, does not want his amateur standing impaired because of his basketball activities. With the organization of the Canadian Basketball Association, an entirely new body governing its own affairs, free from, and without the say of the A.A.U. of Canada, Cunningham is just a little puzzled as to what the outcome would be if he played basketball. And so Mr. Cunningham, something of a shrewd athlete who does not believe in taking chances, is on the sidelines, knowing at least that he is perfectly safe in this unfamiliar position.—S.T.

Furniture Suffers

Comfortably stretched about their own hearths, persons never dream of hanging down a beaker of scalding tea on top of the piano's glistening French polish. Nor do they boldly slide a wet glass of pop or other beverage atop the radio with its mirror-like finish, attained only by much elbow exercise. As they contemplate the confines of their own parlor-bedroom-sink, they wisely refrain from flicking cigarette ashes on the carpet. They recoil with horror at the idea of scratching a lucifer on a chair seat, or grinding a piece of stodge cake into a rug with a well-timed heel push. You will fail to find them leaving a burning rag on the edge of a buffet, to burn an imperishable brown hole. But when many of these same prudent persons visit others they do all the above things they would never dream of at home. The only reasons we can give for their actions are pure carelessness, sheer disregard of others' property, or a burning desire to be nonchalant. In the meantime, hundreds of kind hosts will continue to suffer.—G.B.

It Sometimes Happens

There is always a chance of confusion when two meetings are held in different rooms of the same building on the same evening. Walking into what we thought was a political meeting in an outlying district the other evening, we were surprised to find a fair sprinkling of the cloth, a preponderance of women, and not a few children. Our suspicion that something was wrong grew when the chairman began his opening speech. It didn't seem to have much to do with earthly politics. Embarrassed by many staring eyes, we slipped out of the room in the middle of the speech, to find that the meeting we were looking for was upstairs. Still, our mistake was trifling compared with that of a public speaker who was once invited to address a meeting of a certain organization. Arriving a little late, as he thought, and finding the meeting already in progress, he apologized and immediately began his half-hour speech. The chairman allowed him to continue to the end, thanked him for his speech, and added: "I think you will find that your meeting is on the next floor."—R.M.

GREAT BRITAIN'S ATTITUDE

Sir,—Mr. Colin Cameron, apparently a member of the League for Peace and Democracy, in a recent letter to The Colonist makes this statement: That the Conservative leaders of Great Britain had espoused the cause of the aggressor in Abyssinia, Spain, and now in China. If Mr. Cameron really thinks this he can know nothing of the facts. Briefly these are: The British National Government led the way in sanctions against Italy; thereby losing more than any other country in trade and at the same time making an enemy of Italy which till then had always been her friend.

As to Spain the National Government has been the leader in non-intervention; and through this the tactful handling of the matter generally, according to most competent and unbiased observers, has avoided a world war and if anything helped the Government, or Socialist side. The present hostility of Italy to Great Britain proves this.

Then as to the Sino-Japanese conflict, this same Government voted with the majority at the League assembly on the resolution condemning Japan's action. Great Britain hurt her own interests by voting against her old ally. If any of these actions is espousing the cause of the aggressor, then Mr. Cameron's interpretation of English is different from that of the dictionary.

The real responsibility for Italy and Japan's acts of aggression lies with those interests in countries which have small populations and large raw material resources, which have made their governments restrict immigration and raise tariff barriers against the have-not nations.

At the Paris Peace Conference, the Italian spokesman, a liberal, said "We have forty million people, but no coal, no iron ore, no copper, no oil and no cotton, yet our people must live." He also asked for lower-tariff immigration barriers. He then asked the assembled allies for nations to give Italy the opportunity to get these things.

The Government of Great Britain, one of the most same complexion as the present one, was the only government willing to consider this plea; all the other nations, including Canada, refused to consider lowering tariffs and immigration barriers, and since then have raised them still higher. Incidentally this refusal did much to bring Mussolini to power.

The only genuine peace advocate is that man or country which is prepared to pay the price of peace. For peace, as well as for every other good, we must be prepared to give if we hope to get.

I feel sure that Mr. Cameron will agree that in home affairs it is more right to remove legitimate causes of discontent, than to keep those who are discontented down by force. Surely the same rule applies to foreign affairs. Social Credit, with its dividends for all, will remove that most legitimate of all causes for discontent at home—poverty in the land of plenty. The lowering of trade and immigration barriers will remove that most legitimate cause of discontent among the have-not nations—poverty in a world of plenty. And Social Credit will allow this to be done without hurting the workers of the nations which give.

I will finish with a quotation from the greatest peace advocate of all time: "Do unto others as ye would they should do unto you" and again "Love your enemies."

LIBERTY

Sir,—The habit of misusing and abusing words has grown to such an extent in this age that people are generally becoming dazed by the remarks of so-called authorities.

No better example of the abuse of a word can be obtained than by bringing to mind the use Communists make of the good word liberty. Of course, daily news items of executions in the Socialist paradise tend to make one wonder where the connection is, but our merry Marxists and enthusiastic utopians are not downhearted. On the contrary, they make their very thought the child of a wish and as a result often fail to see the ridiculous light which their remarks turn upon Communism. The Communist organization "The League for Peace and Democracy," formerly called "The League Against War and Fascism," illustrates the point well. This league is supposed to be for peace and for democracy (which of course means liberty) and yet what has Communism to do with peace or liberty or democracy. Absolutely nothing.

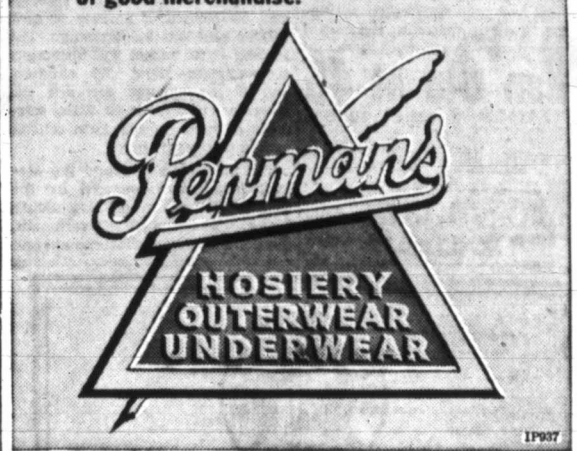

When a Communist uses the word "liberty" he means "slavery," just as when he says "liquidation" he means "murder." Has not that arch-enemy of the human race, Lenin, one of the gods of Communism said that: "Liberty is a bourgeois superstition."

"Liberty" as the word is used by Communists means the liberty of cuckoos in a cuckoo clock or of convicts in a penitentiary. Similarly with "democracy" and "peace."

But surely I am entitled to some relief, if only that of forceful expression, for my travail on the following hand:
Match point duplicate.
West, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	NORTH		EAST
West	▲ J 8 3	▲ 9
North	▲ A J 10 8 2	▲ Q 9 6 3
East	▲ J 6 4	▲ Q 7 5 2
South	—	—	▲ 9 7 4 3

The bidding:
West North East South
1 ♠ Pass Pass 2 ♠
Pass 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠
Pass 6 ♠ Pass Pass
Double 6 ♠ Pass Pass
Pass

"I was North. When I passed over the opening bid my object was, of course, to "trap." East spooled the trap by failing to keep the bidding open, and I must admit that I held my breath while South, my partner, went into a long huddle. He finally decided to protect a possible trap by me and properly reopened with two diamonds. I realized that, since partner's bid was of the protection variety, he might not have a great deal, but still wanted to insure that a game be reached and at the same time wanted to disguise the nature of my holding in order to coax an eventual double from the opponents. Hence my two spade bid. When this elicited a diamond rebid from South, I felt justified in counting him for a reasonably good five card, or longer, suit. If he had as much as a queen in either of the major suits a slam would be an odds-on chance.

West triumphantly banged down the club ace as his opening lead. This was ruffed, and declarer then laid down the diamond ace. When West showed out, the irksome queen was cleared up. Three more leads extracted East's trumps, dummy discarding a spade in the last round, and then a heart was led toward dummy. West, holding only the king and one, played correctly in putting up the king. Dummy's ace won, and the jack was returned. East winning with the queen.

On a club lead back my partner gave me momentary fright by "huddling." But finally, to my relief, he put in the king, discarding another spade from dummy. Now, of course, it was all over but the shouting and I had begun to beam at partner preparatory to complimenting his perfect play.

He then led a spade and finessed. Just as the spade, "Nice work, partner was about to bubble from my tips, my complacency turned to sheer horror. The spade finessed naturally succeeding, partner-dear triumphantly called for the spade ace. I was so stunned that my opponent had to play the card for me.

The wild hope flashed over me that maybe the heart suit would break anyway, but that was soon destroyed. The heart ten was played, my partner discarding his club jack. But East still had the nine spot, and when declarer ruffed he found himself staring at the luscious but comparatively worthless spade queen.

All I said was, "Jumping catfish! Why didn't you ruff a heart while you still had the spade ace for entry?" His answer had the dignity of sheer simplicity. "I didn't think of it," he said.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Question—What is the correct response to partner's double of one diamond with the following:
♦ 9 7 5 ♥ 6 3 ♦ A J 7 3 ♠ 8 7
Answer—One no trump.

MUCH INTEREST IN RADIOS DISPLAYED BY LOCAL DEALERS

Greater Ease in Selection of Short Wave Stations
A Salient Feature in Many New Models—
Complete Lines of Practically Every Make Are Now Shown by Dealers

RADIO Show Week continues throughout Victoria, drawing hundreds of visitors to the showrooms of the different dealers who are co-operating in this special effort to introduce the 1938 lines of radio to the public. The new sets are here, and in every case there are found new improvements and added beauty of performance that place a new meaning in radio entertainment.

BEAUTIFUL MODELS

Among the leading displays to be seen is that made by Fletcher Bros. (Victoria), Ltd., 1130 Douglas Street. The attractively arranged floor is packed with the beautiful models shown, one vying with another in lovely cabinetry and artistry of design. Prominent among the different makes carried is the RCA Victor line. This famous radio has surpassed itself in the 1938 offering, bringing the famous Victor features that are proved by performance in the past, plus new refinements and added engineering achievements. Outstanding among these latter is the electric tuning, a new thrill to radio reception and a feature that, on the Victor, is fully automatic. The owner of an electric tuning model pre-selects a number of favorite stations, and then all that is necessary is the pressure of a button. Presto! the desired station comes in, full, resonant, accurately tuned with the automatic frequency control circuit that brings in the programme with absolute precision, and keeps it tuned.

EASIER TUNING

While the enjoyment of foreign stations has become increasingly popular during recent years, yet the process of tuning has often formed a barrier that the amateur finds hard to surmount. This has been overcome this year, and especially in the new RCA Victor. The overseas dial makes short-wave tuning as easy or easier than domestic tuning. Super bandspread mechanism provides a separate scale eight inches long for each of the popular short-wave bands. Names of the foreign stations appear directly on the dial.

Another salient feature is the silence achieved between stations. The blasting of strong stations, when tuning in, is eliminated through the automatic volume control.

In addition to RCA Victor, Fletcher Bros. also handle the Rogers, Philco and Phonola lines.

NEW MARCONI

Harris' 738 Fort Street, for the first time breaking into the radio field, present the new 1938 Marconi line. The feature which is much stressed in Marconi is the fan-spread dial, a method which greatly simplifies the tuning of short-wave stations by opening out the bands and eliminating "knife-edge" tuning. Two types of automatic tuning are presented by Marconi: the electrically operated unit and the manually operated system. Exclusive to the Marconi line is the achievement of short-wave automatic tuning.

SPECIALIZED SERVICE

The Kendall Radio Laboratories, 843 Yates Street, also handle Marconi radios, in addition to Sparion, Philco and Stewart Warner. In making an attractive display of the leading lines handled, Mr. Kendall stresses the specialized service offered the public. After research and experiment, a patented process for the elimination of static car interference has been evolved, plus a system for changing the tone of any radio to suit the taste of each individual. The particular needs of every locality are carefully analyzed and radio installations are made accordingly.

NORTHERN ELECTRIC

Northern Electric is featured by H. D. Mainwaring & Company, 722 Fort Street. This popular set has the microphonic tone chamber, an acoustical compartment in the cabinet, scientifically designed to reproduce the original sounds as broadcast, just as a mirror accurately reflects the objects before it. Dial-o-matic tuning allows pre-tuned tuning with an unusual degree of simplicity and precision. It is merely a matter of setting the selector switch as indicated in the illuminated dial aperture. A turn of the switch does the rest.

Y.M.C.A. Circus Will Open at the Willows Tonight

THE first performance of the annual Y.M.C.A. circus will be given in the Horse Show Building at the Willows this evening at 8:15 o'clock. It will be repeated again tomorrow night at the same time. A cast of 300 performers will take part in the entertainment, which will feature many leading outside circus stars. Norval Peterson will have the role of ringmaster, officiating from the centre of the arena. All the announcements will be made over a public address system. Tickets have been selling rapidly and a capacity house is expected both tonight and tomorrow night.

inspection of the schools of Greater Victoria. It is expected that this inspection will be under way within the next two or three weeks.

"In conducting this investigation the Department of Education is merely enlarging upon the usual type of inspection made periodically. On this occasion a general and much more comprehensive investigation will be made by Government school inspectors, probably assisted by other governmental officials. The municipal inspector, who is a Government employee, will take part in the investigation.

CHARACTER OF INQUIRY

"The following reference indicates the general character of the inspection:

"1. Present efficiency of the schools of Greater Victoria: (a) Pupils, grading, classification, retardation, etc.; (b) Qualifications of teachers, certificates, professional improvement, etc.; (c) Courses offered. Are they suited to the needs of the pupils? (d) Are the schools well equipped in the matter of library services, auditoriums, laboratories, gymnasiums, practical arts? (e) Type of local examinations, use of approved instruments and achievement tests; (f) Medical and dental inspection.

"2. Is the general administration of the schools satisfactory? What economies can be effected? Can the taxpayers get better educational service for their children at little or no increase in the total cost?

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

"3. Is the new Junior High School well organized and equipped? Are the teachers well qualified? How best can the junior high school system be extended to the whole area?

"4. Is the present provision for technical and commercial education adequate? If not, how can it be improved?

"5. How can the new curriculum be best brought into effective use in the schools of Greater Victoria?

"6. Municipal inspector's office and work. Quality of supervision, both administrative and educational.

"7. Feasibility of the formation of a Greater Victoria school area. Its advantages, both economic and educational, and disadvantages, if any.

"8. School costs and methods of school accounting. Can school accounting be improved? If so, what changes could be made to bring this about? What economies, if any, can be effected.

"9. Special problems."

MACHINE REMOVAL TO BE DISCUSSED

Federal Department of Agriculture
Tells Council Why Totalizers
Were Scrapped

Reasons given by the Federal Department of Agriculture for removal of the Australian totalizer machines at Willows Park, will be reviewed by the City Council at a meeting to be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

A letter received yesterday from H. Barton, deputy minister of agriculture, stated:

"Australian totalizer machines were not accurate, and were unsatisfactory in other respects. The department responsibility is to carry out authorized regulations for protection of the betting public and in the interests of horse racing."

A recommendation from fire wardens that Harold Easton Orrick Hall be appointed on probation as a third class fireman from October 22, will be discussed. Mr. Hall has been a temporary employee of the fire department since 1935.

MAY REVIVE FEDERATION

Victoria Trades Council
Moves to Have Annual Conferences of Workers

Suggestions approved by the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council Wednesday night may result in the rebirth of the British Columbia Federation of Labor, an organization composed of delegates from all trades councils in the province, which functioned until dissolved in 1920.

Victoria, insofar as representation was concerned, has had little direct contact with the governing body in Canada, the Trades and Labor Congress, because of its inability to have its own delegates seated on the British Columbia executive. In order to have delegates on the provincial board, the Victoria District Council was required to have delegates in attendance at an annual convention of the trades congress, which it was unable to do because of the cost of sending representatives to the East.

CONVENTION CALL

The question of reviving the British Columbia Federation will likely be considered when the convention to frame a new trades union act meets here October 30 and November 1. At the recent convention of the trades congress it was suggested federations be encouraged.

Considerable discussion was given to the forthcoming convention, called by the Capital City body to design a new workmen's act and it is likely the Harold Winch Act, as well as the skeleton act outlined by the Dominion Congress, will be considered, but it is not expected the two-day session of delegates will be sufficient to complete a workable act, ready for presentation to the Legislature. It may be necessary to call a further convention, but the basis of the act will be fairly well designed before the delegates adjourn.

The committee in charge of organization for the conference reported fifty-seven credentials already received from all parts of the province. The first meeting will be held Friday night, October 29, to get committees organized for the opening on Saturday morning. The convention procedure will be in full charge of the delegates, who will appoint their own convention chairman and necessary committees to handle the work. A change of meeting place may be made from the Labor Hall to the A.O.F. Hall, it was stated by the convention board.

SCHOOL TEXTBOOKS

After accepting the report of the convention committee, the council discussed the question of printing school textbooks in British Columbia and a resolution from the Pressmen's Union, accompanied by a letter addressed to the Minister of Education was endorsed, asking the Government to give the matter consideration. President W. H. Youhill stated the matter had been before other governments, and delegates had been informed the copyright on books made it impossible to print the books here.

The building in which the Victoria Labor Hall is located is at present undergoing repairs, and the council was advised that workmen employed were not all union men. The council passed a resolution that unless only union workmen were employed, the council would consider vacating the premises.

Thief Steals Money Hidden From Robbers

EDMONTON, Oct. 21 (P)—A thief stole $1,500 in cash from an elevator agent's home at Gunn, seventy miles northwest of Edmonton. H. Collingridge, agent of the Seale Elevator Company, took the money home because of worry about safe-crackers, it was learned here. He hid it carefully, but the burglar, who evidently walked through the front door while the family was absent from the house, found it after ransacking drawers in several rooms.

JAMES W. HUDSON RESIGNS OFFICE

Is Succeeded as President of Queen
Alexandra Solarium by C.
H. French

James W. Hudson, who for the past two years has been president of the Queen Alexandra Solarium, tendered his resignation as president at a meeting of the board of directors, held Wednesday.

Mr. Hudson will continue as a director, but stated that the demands and pressure of his personal business made it necessary for him to relinquish the office.

A resolution expressing warm appreciation of Mr. Hudson's services was passed by the board. Members expressed regret at his decision. The years during which Mr. Hudson has been president have been most active and successful for the Solarium.

The vice-president, C. H. French, was appointed as president to finish Mr. Hudson's unexpired term. E. W. McMullen has been named vice-president.

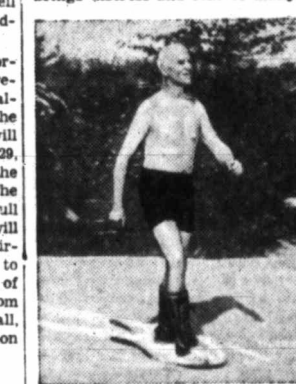

Vancouver Man To Give Sermon

Rev. Dr. Willard T. Brewster, minister of St. Andrew's-Wesley United Church, Vancouver, will preach tonight at 8 o'clock at the Church of Our Lord. This will be the first service of the harvest festival, which will be continued on Sunday.

"ARE YOU FLEECE LINED?"

I WRITE this on one of those fall days that artists love. Nature has put on her flaming dress—and the sun shines—the air is stimulating like wine. Nevertheless, we are on the threshold of winter, and that brings distress and fear to many.

"Are you fleece lined?"
"Better than that, I'm health lined."

Many are wearing topcoats even now. But I don't mind winter, nor would anyone who lived and ate according to nature's laws.

I don't change my manner of dress when winter comes—I wear no overcoat, vest nor underwear, ever, and I walk and motor all over the continent in the coldest weather. I won't be sick this winter, won't have a cold, and when spring comes I'll be fit as a fiddle.

"How come?" says the "inquisitive one." "Are you fleece lined?" "Better than that—I'm health lined."

I defy colds, aches, pains, old age, disease or physical or mental let-down, at almost eighty. Any reader whose vital organs are not extensively destroyed by foolish feeding and living habits, can learn to do so, by following my living methods as presented in my books, particulars of which I shall gladly mail upon request. I do not urge you to write. Those who have to be urged to write for such valuable information are not worth the urging.

I take the same attitude regarding my unique foods, Roman Meal, Bekus-Puddy, Lishus and Kofy-Sub. A reasonable trial will prove to anyone that these foods are unique, really have no equals, but I do not even urge anyone to make that trial. The really intelligent needs no urging to use them, or at least try them. The other kind would not keep the trial up for a sufficient time to get results. So why urge? I leave it up to the individual's intelligence. A sufficient reason for a trial ought to be my own comeback from impending death at 50 to be, at almost 80, one of the most vital men found anywhere. This recovery I owe to correct living habits, more to an extensive use of Roman Meal and Kofy-Sub than to all other agencies combined.

Thousands of others in six countries have been similarly blest. If you need or desire vigorous, radiant health, you may have it, and a free use of Roman Meal, Bekus-Puddy, Lishus and Kofy-Sub is your most important single aid in that attainment. Address: Robt. G. Jackson, M.D., 876 The above is from a photograph of Robt. G. Jackson, M.D., taken in his 77th year.

Striking Tribute To Dr. S. F. Tolmie Paid by Saanich

A striking tribute to the late Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie was paid last evening by Reeve William Crouch, of Saanich, at the regular meeting of the municipal council.

"He was a man who had lived for the greater part of his life in Saanich; who was extremely well known to us, and who cheered us with his kindly geniality and friendship," said the Reeve.

Mr. Crouch pointed out that much as he would be missed in other parts of the province and the Dominion, the loss was the greatest to Saanich, which was Dr. Tolmie's home. "We here will miss him most of all," the Reeve declared.

The council stood for a minute upon the completion of the brief eulogy.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 21 (C)—As a heavy, asphalt-laden truck lumbered down the street, a small boy darted into its path—then things happened fast.

The truck swerved, struck and snapped a fire hydrant, turned over, wrecked itself and dumped its five-ton cargo onto the sidewalk.

Driver Albert de Cook escaped uninjured, but he'd like to find the boy.

REFUSE SUM FROM BOARD

Saanich Council Unable to Accept $584 Refund on Health Insurance

Though a cheque of $584.93 was returned to Saanich by the Board of School Trustees, as a refund of the amount included in school board estimates for health insurance for teachers and janitors, the council at last evening's meeting decided they could not accept it.

Though receipt of the cheque was welcomed by councillors, R. F. Sewell, municipal clerk, pointed out that under the provisions of the Municipal Act, any balance unspent must be carried over and applied to the credit of the board next year.

Such money cannot be spent for purposes other than those designated, it was pointed out.

To provide for changes in the municipal fire department, made necessary by the recommendation of the fire committee, the council decided to advertise for two firemen, who must be married, under the age of twenty-five, and expert truck drivers.

SECONDARY HIGHWAY
 One is to replace a former member of the fire department, who is to be continued in the service of the municipality as required, while the second man is necessary to efficiently serve the equipment that is now maintained. The matter of finance, Reeve William Crouch estimated, would be discussed at a special meeting called for that purpose early in 1938.

Norman W. Whittaker, K.C., M.P.P.-elect, communicated with the council regarding a letter from the corporation suggesting that the Government make Glenford Avenue, Carey Road and Douglas Street from the intersection of Glenford Avenue and Saanich Road to the city limits a secondary highway. Mr. Whittaker pointed out that he would feel his hand would be strengthened in presenting the matter to the Government if the request was the unanimous vote of the council. A motion was so passed.

BOND TRANSFER
 Councillors had before them a statement from W. A. Greene, accountant, that in part recommended the transfer of approximately $13,000 in bonds, leaving a total of $33,000 to be invested in the sinking fund, waterworks, 1914, due October 15, 1944.

Mr. Sewell suggested a committee be formed to look into the matter and to take advantage of the opportunity of gainful investment. The matter was referred to the finance committee and the transfer authorized.

Rotary Endorses Community Chest With Resolution

At a dinner meeting of the Rotary Club, in the Empress Hotel last evening, the following resolution in support of the Community Chest campaign now under way was introduced by Morse L. Greene and passed unanimously: "That this club believes that the Community Chest campaign of obtaining funds for welfare work is in the best interests of the community and that the campaign now in progress is worthy of the support of all citizens."

SYNOD HAS HEAVY LIST

Presbyterians of British Columbia Hear Reports on Mission Work

A substantial list of agenda was dealt with yesterday by the Synod of British Columbia of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, meeting in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The Synod of British Columbia was held at 9:30 a.m. in the service being presided over by Rev. D. A. Smith, Vancouver, moderator of the synod. The pre-communication address was delivered by Rev. Dr. D. Lister, Vancouver, who took as his text, "This do in remembrance of Me." Rev. F. G. Fowler, Vancouver, delivered the post-communication sermon, speaking on "Discipleship," and taking as his text, "If any man would come after Me, let him take up his cross and follow Me."

The remainder of the morning session was occupied with correspondence and reports of committees.

WOMEN'S SOCIETY
 In the afternoon the provincial report of the Women's Missionary Society was given by Mrs. G. Gourley, corresponding secretary, who was introduced by Mrs. R. N. Thomson, president.

Mrs. Gourley reported four presbyteries, with forty-one auxiliaries, twenty young women's auxiliaries, thirty-three mission bands and 341 home helpers, and stated that during the year's work a total of $5,483.56 had been raised. The library committee had distributed 11,490 Bibles, Testaments, and other literature to sparsely-settled outlying communities.

The general report was one of optimism and of a steady advance made in all branches of the work during the year. Reference was made to the visit of Miss Ellen Douglas and Rev. C. L. Wood and Mrs. Wood, from the Bhil mission field, India, who were home on furlough, and whose lantern lectures and account of the work on the field were both inspiring and informative.

A report of the synod's mission committee was given by the synodical convener, Rev. A. C. Wishart, Vancouver, in which a review of the leading features of the work of the board and of the executive was given.

SYNODICAL MISSIONARY
 Discussion took place on the question of the appointment of a synodical missionary for the province for the purpose of visiting the aid-receiving churches and extending the work of the church. The synod finally decided to instruct the presbyteries within its bounds to assume, in the meantime, direct supervision of its mission work.

Missionary and young people's work formed the subjects of discussion at the evening meeting, at which the speakers were Rev. Harold Funston, Stewart, B.C., and Rev. Dr. W. Kannian, Montreal, who were introduced to the synod by Mr. Wishart, synod convener of home missions. Mr. Funston spoke of the work in the mining district of the Northern Territory, and Dr. Kannian reported on his visit to the World Sunday School convention held at Oslo, Norway, at which there were 2,800 delegates, representing forty-eight nations.

Rev. W. D. Reid dealt with the subject of spiritual power, his address forming a fitting conclusion to those that had gone before.

The synod will resume at 9 a.m. today, when matters for consideration will be the budget and stewardship, young people's societies and Sabbath schools, the pensions fund, church life and work, and evangelism.

City and District

Premises Entered—The premises of A. T. Farley, 565 Johnston Street, were entered some time Wednesday night, and a small hand drill and a grinder taken.

Beer Plebiscite—Provision has been made for the submission of a plebiscite in Port Haney as to whether the electorate there approve of the sale of beer by the glass. Voting will take place on November 5.

Reimbursed for Loss—James Turner, Saanich, will be reimbursed $75 by the Corporation of Saanich for fifteen sheep destroyed by dogs. The amount was ordered paid at last evening's meeting of the council, under the terms of the Sheep Protection Act.

Store Robbed—The grocery department of Scott & Peden, Corner and Store Streets, was robbed Wednesday night, when thieves removed cigarettes, cigars and tobacco valued at $35. Entrance was gained by removing the cylinder of the lock and sliding back the bolt holding the door.

To Discuss Drainage—Representatives of the city, Saanich and Oak Bay will meet in the City Hall, October 30, to discuss the best means of preventing the flooding of Bowker Creek, which runs through the two municipalities and Victoria. The creek carries away a considerable amount of surface water in the winter months.

Prepare for Election—Sydney Child, returning officer, said yesterday he had received instructions from Ottawa for the Federal by-election here on November 29, and the proclamations will be posted today. Voting will be done by polling stations as in the general election. There will be 138 polling places.

Scenic View Raised—The Scenic View, confectionary-store and gas station on the Malahat Drive, was razed by fire early yesterday morning, and not the Malahat Lookout as previously reported. The Malahat Lookout is situated at the summit of the drive, and offers a clear view of Saanich Arm and the surrounding district.

Plans Fur Farm—An application to establish a fur farm on Mount Newton Crossroad for the propagation of fox and mink, was received by Saanich Council last evening from T. Crampton. The farm represents an investment of approximately $1,000, it is said. The matter will be referred to the medical health officer and building inspector for report.

Malayans Visitors Here—Mr. and Mrs. Khoo Tiek Ee, Kuala Lumpur, Federated Malay States, registered at the Empress Hotel yesterday. They were accompanied by Mrs. C. Y. Loke, Miss Y. T. Loke and Miss Y. L. Loke. Mr. and Mrs. Khoo are visiting this continent for the first time, and the party will remain in the city for some few days. Mr. Khoo is a barrister.

Trucks Collide—Trucks driven by Hop Chong, 749 Fort Street, and E. Renaldi, 1022 North Park Street, collided at the Johnston and Douglas Streets intersection at 9:30 yesterday morning. Quon, six-year-old son of Hop Chong, was thrown to the sidewalk, but was uninjured. According to a police report, the vehicle owned by the Chinese was badly damaged.

Egg Prices Up—An acute shortage of fresh eggs throughout the province has caused an increase of 1 cent a dozen on all sizes of grade "A" eggs and 4 cents a dozen on grade "C" peewees, according to an announcement made by William Haggart, Dominion Egg Inspector, yesterday. Cold weather on the Prairies and large shipments East are believed to be the cause of the shortage.

Local Student Debates—Struan Robertson, former president of the Students' Council, Victoria College, participated in a debate at the first evening forum of the year held at the University of British Columbia, Point Grey, last evening. Mr. Robertson upheld the affirmative of the resolution "That the standard of university examinations should be raised so as to eliminate the mediocre or poor student."

Painters to Organize—Those engaged in all branches of the painting, decorating and sign-writing craft in this city and district, were addressed by Ed. Smith, Vancouver, organizer, representing the American Federation of Labor, at a meeting on Wednesday. A number present enrolled, and a charter will be sent for. It will be left open thirty days for any others desiring to register. Frank Sellers, delegate of the Vancouver Island Council, was in the chair.

New Station—Plans of Home Oil Distributors, Ltd., to rebuild its service station at the corner of Douglas and Flanagan Streets were discussed by the lands committee of the City Council yesterday afternoon.

REVISION COURT COMPLETES TASK
 City Council Group Signs and Seals Assessment Roll for 1938—Few Appeals Heard
 Signed and sealed by members of the court of revision, the 1938 assessment roll was deposited in the City Hall vault yesterday afternoon. Members of the court, which dealt with thirty-nine appeals, were Mayor Andrew McGavin, Alderman T. W. Hawkins, Dr. J. D. Hunter, S. H. Okell and John A. Worthington.

Before the first court session, the roll listed for taxation purposes land assessed at $18,505,367, with improvements estimated at $29,644,585. The thirty-nine appeals constituted the smallest number dealt with for fifteen years, according to George A. Okell, city assessor and collector.

Reductions made by the court on the land assessment totaled $610. Improvements were reduced $6,790.

SHORT WAVE CLUB
 Members of the Victoria Short Wave Club will hold a meeting tomorrow evening at 2024 Carnarvon Street.

Permission for the Department of National Defence to lay a pipe line from the city's water main near Lagoon Road to Alberta Head was granted by the City Council water committee yesterday morning. Mayor Andrew McGavin presided.

In agreeing to the proposal, the committee specified that 8,000 feet of the pipe line should be composed of six-inch pipe, and the balance four inches in diameter. Should residents request water connections from the main, part of the expense would be borne by the Federal Government and city jointly, it was stated.

A request from the Western Commercial Lumber Company that the time to remove timber from property in the Goldstream district be extended to October 1, 1938, was granted conditionally. The committee will recommend to the council that its action be endorsed. The lumber company sold the property in question to the city in 1929, but retained possession of the timber.

Mrs. W. Peden Again President of South Island Institutes

Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir Speaks on "The New Curriculum" at Closing Session of W.I. Conference—Officers for Year Are Chosen

MRS. William Peden was re-elected president of the board of the South Vancouver Island Women's Institutes at the closing session of the annual conference yesterday afternoon in the Victoria W.I. rooms, Fort Street. Other Officers were chosen as follows: Vice-president, Mrs. T. C. Robson, Vimy Institute; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Webster, Lake Hill, and directors, Mrs. J. L. White, Victoria, and Miss Savory, Langford.

Mrs. Webster gave satisfactory report of the board's finances, and Mrs. Peden gave the report of the district board, in which she thanked the officers who had worked with her during the year, and added a special word of thanks to Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan and Miss Leighton for the interest and valuable advice.

Mrs. E. Tryon and Mrs. Harrison, Parksville, were scrutineers during the election of officers. Mention was made of a handicrafts exhibition to be held in Duncan on October 26, and an invitation was extended to all members.

THE NEW CURRICULUM

Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, gave an address on "The New Curriculum," during the afternoon, in which he paid a tribute to the "two hundred or more teachers in the province whom I must thank for suggestions as a contribution towards this new curriculum." He spoke of the changed attitude towards education which he said, "should mean creative self-activity rather than passive absorption of textbook material." It was in order to reach this end that many readjustments in education processes had been made. The reform of the traditional examination system, not the abolition of examinations, was advocated by the speaker, as Dr. Weir stated, there had been a tendency in the past to over-value examinations in the schools. Teachers must be imbued with a new education philosophy, and it was necessary that all studies should contribute to the aim of making education more dynamic.

The speaker referred specifically to science teaching, which was being put on a more sound foundation and adapted to suit the needs of life in British Columbia, primarily. Regarding health, the new teaching aimed to inculcate ideals of health which would improve citizens in after life. In the past, history had tended to be a "dry accumulation of facts," and effort would be made to link it up with other subjects bearing upon the social studies. Character education, vocational and educational guidance were referred to as ideals in the minds of those responsible for the planning of the new curriculum.

Dr. Weir emphasized the importance of school libraries and the teaching of the use of reference books, the value of training in how to study, manual training and household science. The Junior High School system was being reorganized on the principle of the British system, rather than that of Prussia, which had been the case for many years.

Mrs. W. Peden expressed the

MRS. W. P. D. PEMBERTON

Vice-chairman of the women's division of the Greater Victoria Community Chest campaign, which is giving most active support to the drive which is to be held from November 1 to 8. The ladies are splendidly organized under the chairmanship of Miss Sara Spencer, and have already had some enthusiastic meetings, at which they have been addressed by representatives of the central campaign committee, whose grand rally on Sunday evening, at the Capitol Theatre, will sound the first note of challenge to thanks of the delegates to Dr. Weir for his concise and illuminating address.

CONVENERS' REPORTS

At the morning session Mrs. Douglas Bullen, convener of public health and child welfare, reported that the Solarium, Cowichan Health Centre and similar institutions have had the support of the institutes. Mrs. E. F. Arnold, district convener of agriculture, gave a talk on wool, explaining how to wash and prepare the raw product. Mrs. Maude Hammond demonstrated the newest spinning wheel, which can be attached to a sewing machine. Mrs. A. Stannard, home economics convener, spoke of work done along these lines, and Mrs. M. E. Kinloch, convener of the committee on legislation, gave a brief report. The industries report was read by Mrs. Sexton.

The delegates voted that a letter of sympathy be sent to Mrs. William Booth, a former president, who is ill in Alberni.

Luncheon was served at David Spencer, Ltd., the hostesses being the Victoria Institute.

Clubs-Societies

Joint Mission Meeting

A joint meeting of mission circles was held at the home of Mrs. M. L. McLennan, 311 Vancouver Street, on Tuesday evening, at which representatives from various senior W.M.S. groups were welcomed. Members from Belmont United, Metropolitan, First United and the Chinese Mission Circle carried out the programme, which was convenered by Mrs. W. H. Muncy, Presbyterial secretary for mission circles. The devotional period was taken by First United, and led by Miss Marjorie Morris; the girls of the Chinese Circle chose the hymns, while members of the Metropolitan Circle contributed musical numbers. Miss Maurine Whitehouse sang, accompanied by Miss H. Sargeant, and Miss Rita Smith played a violin solo, accompanied by Miss Laity. The speaker of the evening was Mrs. W. G. Wilson, whose interesting address dealt with the two world conferences of forty-six nations at Edinburgh and also at Oxford. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

St. Andrew's W.M.S.

The Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church met in the lecture room of the church on Monday, Mrs. William Ellis, president, in the chair. Mrs. M. C. Fuller took charge of the devotional exercises. Reports from the various secretaries and treasurer were submitted. Mrs. W. L. Clay reported having arranged for a speaker to attend the annual thank-offering meeting which will be held on November 15 and will take the form of a social gathering. Mrs. J. A. Kennedy and her band of leaders to make the necessary arrangements. Mrs. William Ellis

Social and Personal

Entertains for Visitor

Mrs. A. K. Munro entertained yesterday afternoon at the tea hour at her home, "Sinclair," Kings Road, in compliment to Mrs. Alfred Smith, who is visiting here from London. The reception room was lovely with bronze chrysanthemums and in the drawing-room gold chrysanthemums were used with effect, and in the library were beautiful blooms of dahlias in Autumn shades. Tea was served in the dining-room, the table being covered with a lace cloth and centred with a bowl of golden chrysanthemums and sinias, flanked by blue tapers in silver candelabra. Presiding at the tea hour was Mrs. Munro's sister, Mrs. John Irving, and assisting in serving were Misses Sandra Munro, Isabel Munn and Renee Paton. The guests were Mrs. George Jay, Mrs. J. Wilson, Mrs. R. Paton, Mrs. Herbert Anson, Mrs. Max Leiser, Mrs. M. Mess, Mrs. A. J. Garesche, Mrs. H. A. Munn, Mrs. R. H. Lyons, Mrs. J. Hazelwood, Mrs. J. Macallan, Mrs. W. Bell, Mrs. C. H. French, Mrs.

H. H. Shandley, Mrs. C. French, Mrs. Lauder, Mrs. F. M. MacPherson, Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Mrs. French, Mrs. A. J. Watson, Mrs. H. Curry, Mrs. Edwin Tomlin, Mrs. G. C. Pinhorn, Mrs. Warder, Mrs. S. Barnett, Mrs. W. A. Jameson, Miss Renee Paton, Miss Isabel Munn, Miss Gertrude Munn, Miss Vida Shandley and Miss Sandra Munro.

Miscellaneous Shower

Mrs. B. Burgess and Mrs. C. Burgess were hostesses on Tuesday at a miscellaneous shower at the home of the latter, 1405 Grant Street, in honor of Miss Emily Bird, who is to be married shortly. The reception rooms were decorated in colors of pale pink and mauve and gifts were in a decorated wagon drawn by little Diana Blackstock, who presented the bride-to-be with a lovely corsage bouquet. Games were played, the winners being Miss Sheila Maxwell and Mrs. Naysmith. The buffet supper was served from a prettily decorated table on which was a shower cake iced in pink, white and silver, with a miniature bride and groom on top. The invited guests were Mesdames J. H. Macdonald, Albert Tudor, John Naysmith, William Logie, John Maxwell, Harry Flinn, John Allen, Fred Walker, Arthur Clarke, Albert Hampton, James Berry, D. Macdonald, Charles S. W. T. Thomas Jennings, Fred Rushworth, William Bird, W. P. Dixon (New York), and Misses Minnie Knight, Bessie Macdonald, Margaret Bird and Dallas Allen.

Miscellaneous Shower

Miss Amy Anderson and Miss Irene Watson were joint hostesses for a miscellaneous shower on Wednesday evening at the home of the latter, 633 Belton Avenue, in honor of Miss Lillian Painter, a November bride-elect. The gifts were concealed in a mauve, pink and gold decorated box. The evening was spent in games, the winners being Mrs. Youson, Mrs. Milley and Mrs. Tucker. Those present were: Mrs. Alex Painter, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Summerville, Mrs. Jack Angus, Mrs. Frank Jenkins, Mrs. John Cottle, Mrs. August Hiegebran, Mrs. James Tucker, Mrs. Cecil Milley, Mrs. Harry Youson, Mrs. Harry Watson, Misses Marjorie Dixon, May Price, Doris and Peggy Burroughs, Violet Medley, Beatrice Williams, Beatrice Stromkins and Marion Watson.

Hostess at Shower

Mrs. J. Beadle, 1246 Acton Street, was hostess recently at a surprise shower for Mrs. F. Rhodes, formerly Gladys Cooper. The rooms were decorated with pink and white flowers and streamers. The table was pretty with pink and white astors in a silver basket and pink candles in silver scones. A wedding cake centred the table. The gifts were presented in a large decorated basket by Miss Joyce Morrish. The evening was spent in singing and dancing. The guests were Mesdames W. Relfew, T. Brown, S. Osbourne, W. Middleton, B. Rose, E. Jane, M. Wright, E. Sparkes, J. Land, E. Sladden, F. Wilkinson, M. Crabtree, M. Burke, H. Graham, A. Restell, S. Wetherell, R. Corness, E. Larner, W. C. Morrish, N. Coudner, W. Campbell, and Misses E. Couch, E. Brown, J. Morrish and Duke.

Tea and Card Party

A successful silver tea was held under the auspices of No. 1 White Shrine of Jerusalem on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. E. Rippington, 947 Poul Bay Road, followed later by bridge and whist in the evening. Winners at bridge were Mrs. H. I. Mowat and Mrs. Myers, first, and Mr. John Hammond, consolation. At court whist, Mrs. Foster and Mr. McCutcheon were first, and Mr. R. Peden won consolation. Special prizes were won by Mrs. Camp, Mrs. R. Vivian and Mrs. Cyril Peden. The guests were received by Mrs. Ethel Pullen and Mrs. W. Rippington. The tables were decorated with golden chrysanthemums, the color of the order. Mrs. Murdoch and Mrs. R. Peden, assisted by Mrs. Manie Shepherd, presided at the tea urns.

Tea and Shower

Miss Daisy Borrowman, an October bride-to-be, was the guest of honor at a tea on Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. K. Fidler and Miss I. McAdams entertained with a miscellaneous shower. The many attractive gifts were concealed in a large dolls house. On entering, the bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet of carnations and maidenhair fern. The guests included Mrs. W. Florence, Mrs. E. Murbey, and Misses I. Restell, A. Parkinson, H. Harvey, G. Schroeder, L. Robinson, V. Orenden, W. Bleasdale, A. MacKay, D. Sheret, P. Silburn, M. McMillan, C. Johnston and K. Miles.

Is Tea Hostess

Mrs. C. S. Beale, 3513 Quadra Street, was hostess at the tea hour yesterday afternoon to about fifty guests. Presiding at the tea table, which was artistically arranged with a centrepiece of yellow marguerites, mauve scabiosa and maidenhair fern, were Mrs. J. J. Shallock and Mrs. John Walker, the servers being Mrs. Norman Whitaker, Mrs. E. L. McNiven and Mrs. W. R. Foster. Special guests of the afternoon were Mrs. Guy Blanchet and Miss Blanchet, formerly of Ottawa, and Mrs. Kenneth Wright, formerly of Toronto, who have recently taken up residence in the city.

Tea for Travelers

Mrs. Robert Baird, Laurel Lane, entertained a few friends at tea yesterday in honor of Mrs. W. C. Nichol, who has just returned from a several months' absence in Europe. The candle-lit tea table, at which Mrs. L. Bullock-Webster and Miss Eileen Dumbleton presided, looked very attractive with its dainty conventional Japanese shell ornaments, and the drawing-room held several handsome bowls of coral-colored chrysanthemums and amber-tinted dahlias.

At the Empress Hotel

Among the many guests registered at the Empress Hotel are Judge and Mrs. R. W. Smith, Massachusetts; Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Donaldson, Lansing, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Arnett, Columbus, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Warren, Cheyenne, Wyoming; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lovell, Long Beach; Mrs. Ross Sheldon, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Coleman, Portland; Mrs. L. W. Baker, Miss M. Baker, and Mrs. Maude Oliphant, Vincennes, Indiana.

Family Dinner

Mrs. W. H. L. (Len) Jones, Yates Street, entertained at a family dinner on Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Archer, who will leave shortly to take up residence in New Zealand. Mrs. Archer was formerly Miss Louise W. Johnson. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. L. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Archer, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Johnson, Miss E. M. Jones, and Messrs. C. T. Jones, William Greenhalgh and Thomas and Harry Jones.

Passes to Rest

There passed away on Saturday last, at the General Hospital in Vancouver, Mrs. Amanda Hopkins, lately of Comox, but who for many years was a resident at 801 Craigflower Road, Esquimalt, at the home of her brother, J. H. Banks.

During that time, she, by her kindly manner and efficient helpfulness, endeared herself to many friends, who will learn of her passing with sincere regret.

Those left to mourn her loss are a son, Irvin Hopkins, merchant, at Courtenay; three granddaughters; one brother, J. H. Banks, Comox, and one sister in Vancouver. The funeral took place at Courtenay on Wednesday afternoon.

Late Member Is Extolled By Conservative Women

Annual Meeting Gives Standing Tribute to Late Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie—Central Executive Urges Members to Get on Voters' List

An encouraging revival of interest was commented on by speakers at the annual meeting of the Conservative Women's Association, held last evening, when Mrs. Sidney R. Bowden, the president, and other officers of the past year were re-elected by acclamation.

The meeting, which was well attended, was briefly addressed, in turn, by J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance in the last Conservative Government under the late Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie; R. D. Harvey, president of the Victoria Conservative Association, and F. A. Willis, secretary, each of whom urged on the ladies the importance of seeing that their names were on the voters' list before the forthcoming election, and indicating the responsibility that all loyal Conservatives should feel to honor the memory of the late Dr. Tolmie by electing a man of similar convictions and principles worthy to follow in his stead.

STANDING TRIBUTE

The proceedings opened with an eloquent moment's silence, the members standing, to the memory of Dr. Tolmie. Routine business occupied the early part of the evening, Mrs. S. R. Bowden presiding. Her report and those of the secretary, Mrs. T. Hammett, and the treasurer, Mrs. W. G. M. Rolston, showed a healthy and growing condition, and a further eight new members were added last evening.

In her annual report, Mrs. Bowden reviewed subjects discussed during the year, "Health Insurance" and "Immigration" figuring largely. Two important events of the year had been the Provincial election of June 1 and the visit of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Dominion Conservative leader.

Eleven business meetings and four executive meetings during the year were reported by the secretary, Mrs. T. Hammett. The treasurer, Mrs. Rolston, brought in a report showing a satisfactory state of solvency in the finances of the organization.

MEN'S ADDRESSES

"Hon. Dr. Tolmie was one of the best members of the city of Victoria had ever sent to Ottawa," said J. W. Jones in his short tribute to his old-time leader and friend. It would be difficult indeed to select a capable man for his successor, during the next few days the Conservative party would, it was hoped, be able to make an announcement satisfactory to all its supporters.

Mr. Harvey also reminded the members of the responsible position of each and every Conservative voter in the coming by-election. While urging the ladies to extend themselves to the utmost in the coming by-election, Mr. Harvey expressed confidence in the outcome and thanked the Conservative women for what they had done during the election of last June. He and Mr. Willis, the last of the three speakers, gave the meeting some valuable advice concerning the getting of their names on the voters' list. Mrs. Kate Palmer, a former president of the Conservative Women's organization, was welcomed to the meeting. Announcement was made that there would be no further meetings of the organization until after the by-election.

Bride and Groom to Live Here

The marriage of Wileta Basant, daughter of Mrs. Thomas, 1563 Hampshire Road, and of the late Mr. Walter Thomas, formerly of Vancouver, members of pioneer British Columbia families, and Mr. Leslie Pollett Osborne, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Pollett Osborne, Dean Heights, took place quietly at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Empress Hotel.

LOVELY BRIDE

The bride, who was given away by her mother, looked lovely in her wedding gown of ivory chiffon velvet, with a long train, and her veil of bridal net arranged with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Talsman roses. Miss Irene Hanna, a niece of the bride, was the only attendant. In a charming frock of lace over peach taffeta, and a matching hat, who carried a bouquet of roses and carnations. Mr. Donald Brake was best man.

RECEPTION HELD

After the ceremony a largely-attended reception was held in the Princess Charlotte dining suite at the Empress Hotel, which was bright with Autumn flowers. Mrs. Thomas was becomingly gowned in black velvet, and wore a black hat and lace veil, and Mrs. Osborne wore a dress of sapphire blue velvet with a cape, and a Gainsborough hat. They both wore shoulder sprays of Talsman roses.

After a honeymoon in California, Mr. and Mrs. Osborne will make their home in their newly-built house on Dean Heights. For traveling, the bride chose a smart navy blue outfit.

B.C. LOG SCALE
UP FOR PERIOD
Some Recession in Orders
Noted After Active Start at First of Year

Official saw log scales bearing on timber production in British Columbia for nine months this year were announced yesterday by the British Columbia Forest Branch, disclosing sharp increase in the total measured in the period. The log scale was 2,226,255.721 board feet, compared with 2,012,652.368 board feet in a like period of last year.

In addition, 13,701,137 lineal feet of poles and piling, 112,742 cords of firewood and 905,652 pieces of hewn ties were cut between January and September, inclusively, this year. Poles and piling showed a gain from 8,420,804 in the comparative period last year, but cordwood and ties were slightly less.

The official log scale in September was 334,515.215 board feet, compared with 263,861,906 board feet in September, 1936.

A hull was reported in lumber movements at present, after an unusual degree of activity in the earlier months of the year. While the provincial scale does not coincide with the actual cut in the same period, it is regarded as indicative of lumber movements in general.

That Body of Yours
(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

GALL BLADDER INFECTION, GALL STONES, AND OPERATION

It is now known that most of the pain in the stomach and small intestine from gas pressure, is really due to sluggishness of the liver and gall bladder.

Pain from gas pressure in the large intestine or colon is very often due to eating too much starch food or failing to chew the starch food thoroughly before allowing it to go down to the stomach. Thus it has been found that the starch granules often remain unbroken during the digestion in the stomach and small intestine and are not broken up until they reach the large intestine, when the organisms present there break up the starch granule and allow the gas to escape.

However, when there is considerable gas coming up from the stomach after eating, slight pain in the region of the liver and gall bladder,

WHAT LIFE INSURANCE MEANS To Old Age

TO men and women in their later years, Life Insurance means freedom from money worries.

It means that, when the protection for the family is no longer needed, the cash proceeds of their Life Insurance policies will provide a guaranteed income for their own old age.

It means that they can retire from active business at 55, 60 or 65—and take a well-earned rest.

It means that they can continue to enjoy the comforts of a home—and the little luxuries that make life so pleasant.

It means that they can be financially independent and face the future unafraid—with the peace of mind and security that lengthens the span of life.

Today, Life Insurance protects and supports thousands upon thousands of Canadians in their old age—and thus renders a great service to the nation.

"CURRYING FAVOR"—From GROOMING A HORSE!

Currying favor and grooming a horse do not seem to have much in common; they are, however, one and almost the same thing; at least, the latter is how the former started. To groom a horse, to clean him, to comb him, generally polish him up and thoroughly rub him down was, in good old English, to "curry" him. In this phrase, the word "favor" is really a misnomer. It arose from the incidence that the obsolete English (from the old French) word for flattery or cajolery was "favor" in English, favel was also at one time the popular name for chestnut horses, from the French favel signifying that color.

Corruption of "currying favel," which was first so used in the same sense. It was undoubtedly through its application in connection with a favorite horse named favel, it originated, to currying which was a royal road to gaining favor with the master. (Copyright, 1937, by Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

TECHNOCRACY CHIEF TO LECTURE TONIGHT

Howard Scott, director-in-chief of Technocracy, Inc., will give a public lecture this evening at 8 o'clock in the City Temple.

Tomorrow evening, the committee in charge of arrangements for Mr. Scott's visit will hold a dinner for him in Spencer's dining-room at 7 o'clock.

The purpose of the dinner is to give a selected group of the most interested people in this district an opportunity to hear and question Mr. Scott, who was engineer and technician for the Muscle Shoals project.

What Today Means

If October 22 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until noon; from 3 to 4 p.m. and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m., from 4 to 8 p.m., and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

One of this day's greatest annoyances will originate from a desire on the part of the average person to emphasize his or her remarks by finger-pointing, button-holing and other unnecessary using of their hands. Control the impulse to touch anyone, if you would avoid arousing antagonism. It might be a good idea to keep up with your correspondence this day, for through the exchange of letters much good is likely to result. Through faint-heartedness, or showing the white feather, many a business deal will be lost. You will have to present a bold front and show plenty of spirit to stand by your guns successfully this day, so as to get the results you want. A word of appreciation, spoken at the psychological time, may help make someone very happy. Married and engaged couples, and those considering the advisability of becoming betrothed, should avoid arguments. Disputes will be the cause of many hopes being wrecked this day.

If a woman and October 22 is your birthday, you may exercise great control over some business enterprise, or several people. You ought to be so enterprising and far-sighted that you may accomplish almost miracles. You probably do things without reserve or pretense, having possibly a strong dislike for anything bordering on secrecy or sham. You may have a comparatively few intimate friends, but those you have will be devoted and serve you well. Whenever you have the opportunity to travel you should do so, for it seems that thereby you will gather very valuable information. As a store or office executive, actress, writer, teacher or traveling saleslady, your chance of finding the pot of gold at the rainbow's end is excellent. By following the matrimonial trail you ought to come to the Land of Happiness. The child born on October 22 is likely to have a fertile imagination. During the years nearing its majority some definite proof may be obtained that this youngster has inventive, literary or artistic ability. If a man and October 22 is your natal day, good luck is apt to come to you "like a bolt from the blue."

As a clergyman, attorney, physician, engineer, author, actor, manufacturer, banker or contractor you may win gratifying recognition. B.C. Government to Inaugurate Accrediting Committee on High Schools

Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir announced yesterday that the Government would shortly create an "accrediting committee" to advise on what high schools of the province are to be accredited under the revised plan of secondary education. The Minister of Education issued the following statement:

"The Department of Education is waiting for the University Senate to appoint representatives to the accrediting committee, probably towards the end of October. This committee will co-operate with the Department of Education and the British Columbia Teachers' Federation."

"In drafting regulations governing accrediting (of high schools), it is expected that representatives to the committee will commence their work soon after appointment. It is very important that a strong and representative committee should draft regulations governing accrediting in order that possible abuses may be reduced to a minimum and that high educational standards may be retained."

ASK CO-OPERATION OF YOUNGER MEN

Junior C. of C. Names Committees To Represent City and Each Municipality

In an endeavor to obtain the co-operation of the younger business men of Greater Victoria on mutual problems, the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce has named committees to represent each municipality. T. E. Watkins will be chairman of the city committee; Leslie F. Osborne will have charge of Saanich, and Tom Sturges, Oak Bay. Chairmanship of the Esquimalt committee has not yet been filled.

It is believed that by a frank discussion of various difficulties, a greater understanding will be obtained to the benefit of Greater Victoria.

The organization is already planning for a brighter Christmas, and has formed a committee to sponsor for furthering a Yuletide decoration contest. Another committee will consider plans for the New Year's Eve celebration. It has been suggested that festivities such as those held outside St. Paul's Cathedral might be inaugurated here. Suggestions from the public should be forwarded to Captain Norman Foster, secretary of the Junior Chamber, at the Arcade Building.

SEEK IDENTIFICATION OF CAKES AND EGGS

Hong Tuen, known also as Lee Hong Yuen, was before the city police court magistrate again yesterday on the charge of having stolen cakes from Masters' Bakery at 1729 Cook Street. Part of the evidence was taken, after which it was deemed necessary to have further proof that the cakes were taken from the store mentioned.

The girl in charge of the store stock will be brought as a witness today to testify in the matter. Frank Masters, the owner, could not swear positively to the goods having been taken from his stock.

Sergeant Wilkinson, of the city police, testified to having found the accused asleep in an automobile. In reply to a question by accused, the sergeant said that to the best of his knowledge, the accused was sober.

In the last case on the docket, Magistrate Hall declined to order confiscation of an air rifle taken from a youth in Oak Bay by a provincial game warden. He said he could not confiscate the weapon unless a charge of some sort was brought against the owner and he appeared in court.

WELCOME IS GIVEN BISHOP

Parishioners of St. Paul's Church, Esquimalt, Greet Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton

Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia, received a very warm welcome from Esquimalt parishioners at a largely attended social gathering held in St. Paul's Church Parish Hall, Wednesday night.

Rev. Arthur Bischofberger, rector of St. Paul's, presided, and voiced the gladness felt by members of the church in having His Lordship with them once more.

Bishop Sexton told of his visit to the Old Country, and gave his impressions of changes in England, stating that there appeared to be greater prosperity, due to the fact that the armament programme had reduced unemployment. He expressed the opinion that as far as the British people themselves were concerned, there would not be another war unless they were forced into it.

LAY EVANGELISM

His Lordship concluded on a note of appeal for greater activity and enthusiasm in lay evangelism, stating that the time had come when religion would have to be taken more seriously to meet the growth of anti-Christian movements throughout the world.

Engineer-Commander G. L. Stephens expressed the thanks of the gathering to His Lordship for his inspiring and interesting address.

A musical programme was presented, consisting of recitations by Miss L. MacLeod, songs by H. Craven, piano solos by Miss Mildred Prior, and a piano trio by three little girls, Kathleen Lockley, Florence Lorand and Catherine Sneddon. Refreshments were served by the Woman's Auxiliary.

STRESSES NEED FOR SETTLERS

Great Britain Willing to Bear Greater Proportion of Cost, Avers Executive

The solution of Canada's problems lies in immigration, in the opinion of Captain Frank C. Brown, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who is registered at the Empress Hotel.

"We have a need for selective immigration, under proper direction," he declared yesterday. "More people necessarily need more goods. That means more industry and more people employed. Our population is three persons to the square mile. That of England is 740 to the same area."

"The British Government has already voted 75 per cent of the cost of selective immigration to this country. There are even organizations in the Old Country, willing to finance immigrants for three years. We will give them the land. Yet the Federal Government is hesitant to move. At this time only one-third of those entering the Dominion are of Angli-Saxon stock."

DOMINION OFFERS LOVE AND DRAMA

"High, Wide and Handsome" Is Historical Musical With Irene Dunne in Lead

Take one of the most colorful stories from the pages of American history, the tale of the discovery of oil in Pennsylvania in 1859, woven into a scenario by Oscar Hammerstein II, add a strange and beautiful romance between a hard-fighting, iron-willed farmer and a gay, light-hearted carnival singer, played by Randolph Scott and Irene Dunne; augment the romance with the haunting melodies of a Jerome Kern score; put it all together under the talented guidance of a great director, Rouben Mamoulian, and you get the new Paramount musical-historical romance, "High, Wide and Handsome," which opens today at the Dominion Theatre.

CAPITOL The little girl, Deanna Durbin, whose voice has charmed you on the radio for more than a year, and whose screen performance won the acclaim of audiences and critics in "Three Smart Girls," has climbed to the rank of stardom in Universal's comedy drama with music, "100 Men and a Girl," now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

COLUMBIA A princess whose mother was a descendant of Egyptian royalty, is the latest of Hollywood's colony of royals. She is Princess Mural Shada, who supports Loretta Young and Charles Boyer in Paramount's "Shanghai," which is now at the Columbia Theatre.

OAK BAY George O'Brien, popular outdoor star, deserts the saddle for sea romance and action in RKO Radio's "Windjammer," showing currently at the Oak Bay Theatre. Constance Worth, beautiful Australian actress, has the feminine lead opposite O'Brien, who spent many years at sea.

Local Scenes Are Shown in Newsreel Film at Dominion

LOCAL scenes are featured on this week's release of The Colonist Universal Newsreel, commencing today at the Dominion Theatre. Camera men who accompanied President Roosevelt on his visit to this city recorded many views familiar to every Victorian.

Local dignitaries appear with the presidential party as incidents of the visit to Government House and the parade through the streets of Victoria are shown.

Other glimpses of world affairs show new views of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor; "G-men" at gunfire practice; a woman driver in open competition with speed demons in an auto race at Brooklands, England, and the launching of a new 10,000-ton cruiser from the United States navy dockyards at Camden, N.J.

It was obvious that it was necessary to obtain more people, especially British and Scandinavian. "The percentage of Britishers in this country is on the decline. We must make it easier for them to come and settle in this country."

Speaking briefly of the recent sale of timber lands to foreign interests, he maintained that there should be an export tax on raw material sent out of the country. "It is not contributing much to this province to have our forests cut down and sent abroad. We should say to Japan: 'If you want our timber, you should manufacture it here, or should pay for the privilege of manufacturing it yourself.'"

FORUM PROJECT IS POSTPONED

Gyro and Associated Clubs Defer Campaign Until the New Year

Because of an intervening campaign, which members considered of major importance to the community, the Gyro Club of Victoria announced yesterday it had decided to postpone until early next year the campaign to raise funds for the building of a forum here.

When the campaign was started it became apparent it was an undertaking justifying the support and participation of all service clubs in the city, and, as a result, a new committee was formed of representatives of Rotary, Kiwanis, Kinamen, Revellers and Gyro Clubs to handle the forum project. From that time it became a joint undertaking.

The delay in completing the new organization brought the proposed starting date for the campaign in conflict with the Community Chest campaign, and it was therefore decided to postpone the drive until 1938.

In accordance with the pledge given, officials of the club reported, public money subscribed to the project is being returned in full. Every item of expense incurred in the campaign to date has been paid by members of the Gyro Club, and there are no outstanding obligations of any kind, they state.

COMMITTEE AIDS VISIT OF J.B.A.A.

Celebration Group Grants $200 for Shell-Flagpole to Be Erected in Beacon Hill Park

Support to the James Bay Athletic Association in its plan to participate in the Australian British Empire Games next December was pledged by the City Council seventy-fifth anniversary celebration committee yesterday morning. The committee decided to contribute $200 towards the cost of a four-armed shell.

Alderman T. W. Hawkins, who presided, informed the committee the shell would be tried out on Sunday morning. It will accompany a picked crew to Australia. The association will also receive financial aid from the Provincial Government.

Mayor Andrew McGavin and Alderman Hawkins were asked to complete arrangements for erection of a large flagpole in Beacon Hill Park to replace the present mast. The pole was presented to the city by the Kapoor Lumber Company last year and is one of the tallest in the Pacific Northwest. It has been thoroughly aged and made ready for erection this year.

IMPERIAL VETERANS WILL HOLD PARADE REMEMBRANCE DAY

An interim statement of the recent ball held by the Imperial Veterans' Association at the Empress Hotel was presented at an enthusiastic meeting held Wednesday evening in the K. of C. Hall. Although the final figures will not be available for some time, Bruce Dickson, chairman of the ball committee, reported the public had supported the undertaking extremely well. Approximately 750 tickets were sold.

It was announced that all Imperial Veterans will parade on Remembrance Day, and all Imperials in Victoria district are asked to fall in under their banner. The time and place of meeting will be announced at a later date.

The secretary was instructed to communicate with A. M. D. Fairbairn, private secretary to the Lieutenant-Governor, and extend the appreciation of the association for His Honor's gracious gesture in consenting to become their patron.

Ten new memberships were accepted. It was decided to hold a Christmas tree, plans for which will be made later.

Pat Fletcher Wins Caddies Honors by Sensational Finish

Stages Great Rally on Last Nine Holes to Defeat Bert Hyne at Gorge Vale Course, 2 and 1—Loser Is Three Up at Twenty-Eighth—Mrs. Hugo Allen Presents Prizes at Banquet

Rallying desperately on the last nine holes to wipe out a three-up margin and continue on to victory, Pat Fletcher stroked his way to the city caddies' golf championship yesterday at the Gorge Vale Club when he defeated Bert Hyne, Oak Bay titleholder, in the scheduled thirty-six-hole final, 2 and 1. Fletcher, who was runner-up in the qualifying test on Monday, staged a great comeback to snatch the decision out of his opponent's bag.

Mrs. Hugo Allen, women's captain at the Gorge, presented the championship trophy and other prizes to the various winners at a banquet held in the clubhouse in the evening.

The new champion and runner-up played good golf throughout the day. Fletcher was around in the morning in 75, one stroke less than Hyne, shooting a 40 and 35 to the loser's 40 and 36. On the outgoing nine the lead switched back and forth, with Fletcher being two up at the fourth and two down at the eighth and one down at the turn.

Hyne won the tenth with a par to go two up and then, after halving the eleventh and losing the twelfth to Fletcher's eagle three, he won back the next and held the margin to the fifteenth. Fletcher parred the sixteenth for a win and captured the next with another par to round the halfway post, all square.

HYNE IN LEAD

Firing away a string of well-played pars, Hyne arrived at the three-quarter distance, two up. He increased it to three at the twenty-eighth and looked like a certain winner with only eight holes remaining, but here's where Fletcher went to work. He birdied the next two holes and parred the 290-yard thirty-first to square the match in quick order. Fletcher won his fourth straight hole by taking the short thirty-second with a three, halved the next and then won the thirty-fourth to become dormie two. A pair of fours ended the match on the next green. They played on the last hole and Fletcher garnered another birdie.

RUNNER-UP ELEVEN TO BE MINUS THREE OF THEIR REGULARS

Chelsea Contributing Woodley, Mills and Mitchell For International Game, While Brentford Will Be at Full Strength—Wolverhampton and Leeds to Clash—Scottish Matches Set

LONDON, Oct. 21.—International calls will result in several English League clubs entering Saturday's round of soccer fixtures with depleted forces. Most of the players participating in the England-Ireland tussle at Belfast will be drawn from English teams.

Although playing against Brentford, league leader, Chelsea, the runner-up is releasing three players. Woodley will keep goal for England and Mills has been selected to lead the attack. Mitchell is to play on the Irish halfback line. Brentford will be at full strength for the game at Stamford Bridge, which will form London's chief soccer attraction.

Directors of Charlton Athletic, trenched 5-2 last Saturday by Brentford, are taking the defeat coolly. John Oakes is returning at centre-half for the Athletic's game against Bolton Wanderers, but that is the only change in the line-up.

Wolverhampton Wanderers and Leeds United, bracketed with Charlton for third place, meet on the United's ground. The Wanderers will be without Cullis at centre-half. The young defender has been chosen to deputize for Young, Huddersfield Town, in the international tilt. Young will be unable to play on account of an old injury. Leeds releases Proston to England and Brown to Ireland.

NOT IN DANGER

Coventry City's unbeaten record in the Second Division is not likely to be marred by Norwich City, although the Easterners are doing exceptionally well in the present campaign and now occupy seventh place in the table. With seventeen points, Coventry is one ahead of Sheffield United, who should find it easy to avoid Fulham's colors in the Yorkshire city. The United has played twelve games, one more than Coventry.

At the top of the Third Division, Southern Section, for the first time in the campaign, Millwall tackle Clapton Orient on the latter's ground. Last year the home team won, 1-0, but the result may be reversed with the Lions out to win promotion. Gateshead, the surprise packet of the entire league, is clinging to a one-point margin over Lincoln City and Chester in the northern loop and should not find it hard to beat Halifax Town, in twentieth place in the league table.

Determined to gain some measure of revenge for the shelling last week at the hands of the Oak Bay Wanderers, Coach Bill Wharton's Garrison ruggers will be strengthened for tomorrow's fixture with the Bays. The teams are booked to clash in the feature tilt on the local oval ball programme and will meet on the upper field at Macdonald Park.

Oarsmen trounced Victoria College in their opening battle last week and Manager Bert Buller will have his squad intact for the match with the rugged soldier ball-handlers from Work Point Barracks. Bays will be favored to take the Army into camp and move out in front of the idle Oak Bay Wanderers in the race for the coveted Burnard Cup, but the followers of the Tommies are looking forward to a win for their favorites.

With their intermediate fifteen of last season practically intact, Coach Henry Cockin's Canadian Scottish ruggers will make their debut in Senior "B" company when they stack up against the Garrison on the lower field at the James Bay enclosure. Scottish have a well-balanced squad and should make a good showing in their new division. Garrison will trot out a number of new men, many of whom will be playing their first season in the oval ball pastime.

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE

Intermediate League fixtures also swing into action tomorrow with two matches listed. Victoria College, back in the division after a short "filing" in senior company, are scheduled to oppose the Navy, at the Victoria High School grounds. At Admirals Road Coach "Buster" Stewart's Canadian Scottish boys will battle the Oak Bay Wanderers. Stewart, a former Oak Bay Wanderer and Canadian Scottish player, was named coach yesterday.

All matches will commence at 3 o'clock.

Line-ups follow:

Canadian Scottish (Senior "B")—DeMacedo, Knight, Hamilton, A. Williams, B. Martin, E. Bray, Edmonds, Mylrea, Coomber, Willard, S. Martin, Holyoake, Tuthill, R. Hughes and Wallace.

Canadian Scottish (Intermediates)—Hood, Holland, W. Williams, P. Martin, Fraser, Bishop, Malcolm, Howard, Sorenson, Oddy, M. Hughes, McLean, Saunders, Thomas and McLean.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Castle of Gaillard—This castle was built by Richard Coeur de Lion in 1197. It was finished within a year so that the King could exclaim "How beautiful she is, the daughter of one year." After serving as a fortress and a state prison for over four centuries, the castle was destroyed at the order of King Henry IV. Whereas the construction had taken only one year, its demolition required sixteen years of constant labor (1600-1616) without achieving a complete razing of the structure. The most notable of the prisoners housed in this castle was David Bruce, King of Scotland.

Two Hoop Tussles Billed Tonight at High School Gym

TWO Victoria and District Basketball League games will be played this evening at the Victoria High School gymnasium. In the curtain raiser, scheduled to start at 8 o'clock, Kinsman-Gillespie will oppose St. Louis Alumni in an intermediate "A" boys' tussle, while the final encounter will bring together the navy and the Liberty Cafe, senior "B" men's quintettes. Tomorrow evening on the same floor the Victoria Dominions will face the Seattle Antlers Club, junior branch of the Elks' Club, in another of the popular international exhibition matches. Preceding the inter-city clash and starting at 8 o'clock, Spencers and Mount Talmie C.C.F. squads will meet in the preliminary attraction.

Letters to Editor

CLARIFIES SITUATION
Sports Editor.—Will you please be kind enough to print the following letter from D. M. Murray, secretary of the British Columbia Junior and Juvenile Football Association:

"W. O'Connor, 730 Princess Avenue, Victoria."

"Dear Mr. O'Connor.—With further reference to your right letter of October 11 and my reply of the same date I am now in the position of replying fully as per directions of the majority of the B.C. Commission. The motion reads as follows: 'That any question of age be based strictly on the constitutional set-up, and that the constitutional requirements be strictly adhered to. In emergency a letter from the school principal on school stationery be produced.' I trust the above resolution will be of some assistance to you and will somewhat clarify things in Victoria. D. M. Bowls Tomorrow

At Arcade Alleys

FREDDY Converse, Port Angeles, top ranking ten-pin bowler in the Pacific Northwest for the last six years, will perform here tomorrow afternoon and evening at the Arcade Alleys when the American team faces a Victoria line-up in a return match. Poodle Dog Cafe will represent Victoria against the powerful United States trundlers. Play is set for 7:30 in the afternoon and doubles and singles will start at 7:30. The public is invited to watch the match. Converse bowled here in the Pacific Northwest championships at the Olympic Alleys about five years ago and won the singles and doubles titles. He will soon be leaving for the East to compete in the American Bowling Congress.

New Westminster Plans Ice Arena

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 21 (C).—An aldermanic committee today studied advisability of submitting to ratepayers next January a $45,000 money-by-law for installation of ice-making machinery in Queen's Park Arena.

If the scheme were approved, the Arena would become New Westminster's first ice-skating rink.

TRACKSTERS RACE TODAY

McGill and Toronto Favored To Dominate Meeting of College Athletes

TORONTO, Oct. 21 (C).—The Canadian intercollegiate track and field championships will be held here tomorrow, and results promise to be no different than in the last few years. McGill and Toronto again appear to have enough powerful entrants to dominate the fight for team championship.

McMaster Athletics from Hamilton, Queen's and University of Western Ontario also will participate in this annual tournament, but if McGill is to be beaten, Toronto alone packs enough potential champions to take away the crown. Whatever chance Western had went with the wind when Johnny Loaring's studies prevented the ace hurdler and quarter-mile runner from making the trip.

It is not altogether unlikely a half-dozen or so of these college track and field men will be on the team that carries Canada's chances to the British Empire Games in Australia early next year. There isn't a hurdler in the country to compare with Larry O'Connor of U. of T.

A feature of the meet should be the duel between Champion Clarry Frankton of McGill and Dave Critchton of Toronto in the three-mile run.

when you place your feet so that the ball is opposite the left foot.

The reason for this is rather simple when you stop to think of it. When the ground slopes so that your right foot is lower than your left you have the tendency to let your weight remain on the right foot. With this in mind, it is best to have the ball nearer to the right foot, I would say about opposite a point halfway between the feet.

On a downhill shot the ball must be placed well toward the left foot because your weight tends to roll downhill. In this case, if the ball is opposite your right foot you push it off toward the right. The best spot for it here is in line with the left foot.

You should also take an open stance and aim much to the left of the line you would take if playing on level ground. On downhill lies, the ball tends to drift away to the right. The open stance and aim to the left compensates for this.

HOOP SQUADS TO PLAY TOMORROW

Another trio of cage fixtures is carded tomorrow evening, at the Y.M.C.A., for Sunday School Basketball League quietettes. The draw, released last night by Secretary Fred Harding, follows:

7:00—Juniors: Centennials vs. St. Albans.

8:00—Intermediates: Eight Aces vs. Christ Church.

9:00—Juniors: Lake Hill vs. Chinese Students.

Bob Malcolm will referee all three fixtures.

It is easy to get into trouble by not having the ball in the right position when playing shots uphill or down. In playing the uphill shot you stand a good chance of hitting the ground behind the ball or pulling the shot around to the left.

Grapes MAY LOOK ALIKE
but
HOW DIFFERENT IN QUALITY!
... It's the same with Beer

The grape was, no doubt, the first fruit brought under cultivation, and the grape of history is the wine grape. Although grapes from different districts appear similar, experts know they exhibit more variation in characteristics than any other fruit. They are very sensitive to any special quality of soil, air or moisture. That is why in France, the greatest grape-producing country, the name champagne is restricted to wine produced in a comparatively small district in the vicinity of Rheims.

When you buy Lucky Lager you are certain of getting one of the world's finest beers brewed in the most scientific and expensive way* and aged, like vintage wines, to a rare perfection. Your first glass of sparkling Lucky will tell you the reason everyone calls it the Champagne of Beers.

DINNER ARRANGED

Arrangements for the annual reunion dinner of the 103rd Timber Wolves Battalion, which will be held on Saturday, November 20, at 7 p.m. in Spencer's dining-room, were made at a meeting in The Colonist board room on Wednesday. The committee in charge of the affair is under the chairmanship of Capt. F. G. Dexter and comprises Capt. W. Bell, F. Speaks, E. Edwards, J. Devine, A. Jackman, J. Rowe, R. Burns and J. J. Blair, secretary. An entertainment programme has been planned and members are requested to obtain their tickets early from any member of the committee or at E. A. Morris' Ltd.

Jane Dixon Says:

ROUND-UP DAY PROBLEMS: THE GIRL WHO IS DISTURBED BECAUSE A YOUNG MAN RUSHES HER AT DANCES, BUT NEVER DATES HER—A COMMON MISTAKE AMONG WOMEN IS TO ASSUME INDIFFERENCE IN THE PRESENCE OF THE MAN WHO HAS AROUSED THEIR ROMANTIC INTEREST—HOW TO RECIPROCATE GAILY AND INEXPENSIVELY AFTER BEING ENTERTAINED BY OTHERS—ADVICE TO A GIRL WHO IS IN LOVE WITH HER SISTER'S HUSBAND—THE MAN WHO CAN GIVE NO GOOD REASON FOR ASKING HIS FIANCEE TO MARRY HIM SECRETLY.

Our weekly Round-Up! Let us see what it's all about.

Seventeen: The young man gives you grand rushes at dances. He is very complimentary. But he doesn't date you. You like him a lot, and you have reason to think he likes you. So what? So maybe the young man is not dating girls. Maybe he is enjoying their companionship without obligating himself in any way to acquire them. That is his privilege. I have no formula to offer you that would "make" him date you. Even if I had such a formula, I would not offer it. Forcing others into situations is unsound and very bad business. Be friendly with the young man and take him as you find him. Be as friendly as he and never, for an instant, allow him to suspect that you want more from him than he voluntarily gives.

Thanking You: When the boy you care for so much calls, be glad, frankly, to greet him. Stop acting. Be your own self. About the most stupid things women, especially young women, do, is to pose. Intelligent men hate pose, and I don't blame them. If you care for one another, you both should be big enough not to allow unfriendly gossip to annoy you. Brush it off your sleeve, and give the gossips the other side of the street. Why not ask the boy to call, inasmuch as you refused to receive him? Cut off all talk of the past and make a fresh start.

R.D.S.: It is proper for the girl to slip her hand under your arm when the two of you are out for a walk. Crossing the street, you should take the girl's arm and escort her. If your friend has no objection, why not hold her hand in the movies. I can see no reason why first cousins should not be good pals and go places together on a basis of companionship.

You "owe" a lot of people who have entertained you at various parties. You haven't much money, but you have a very nice home. S-s-sh! Don't tell anybody I told you, but this is what I do: I plan a buffet supper and I shoot the works. Lots and lots of good food, attractively arranged and placed on the table, and the buffet for the guests to attack. Scads of good food. Much cheaper and more fun than dragging out a succession of dinner, luncheon and supper parties. I'll see if I can recall my menu for my last buffet—only a week ago. Two platters of cold fried chicken (hesped), two platters of corn fritters and bacon, candied sweet potatoes, big wooden bowl of garden salad (all the current green vegetables with French dressing), hot biscuits, assorted cookies and a cheese tray—assortment of cheese and wafers. Believe me, it was a hit parade. Better to give one perfect party than a lot of quasi ones. And cheaper, too.

Agnes: You are in love with your sister's husband. He doesn't know about it, neither does she. They seem to be happy. You have an offer of a better job in another city. You can't bear to leave him. What should you do? Agnes, take the job. Don't hesitate. What would you expect your sister to do if the positions were reversed? It is an unhealthy love that has been planted by propinquity. Forget it, and go on to a love that is clean and fine. You can never climb to happiness at the expense of your sister.

Uncertain: You ask me, so I'm telling you. I would not accept the proposal of a man who predicated marriage on my oath that I would keep the marriage a secret until he gave me leave to announce it. Especially when he refused to supply a valid reason for the secrecy. He says you will have to accept his word for "keeping it in the dark." If he loves and trusts you, if he is on the level, he will not hold secrets from you. For happy marriage, you will have to share your life together. So why not now?

CHAPTER VI

Robert ground his half-smoked cigarette into the ashtray. "That's a bit difficult," he said dubiously. "I've lots of friends, but—it will have to be some one Betsy doesn't know and isn't likely to question." There was a short silence, then he said, "I know. There's a chap named Basil Loder—he's a great pal of mine—and if it's necessary I can trust him to back me up. It will be perfectly easy."

Syrie echoed the name quietly. "Basil—Loder. . . . What a romantic name."

Robert laughed. "He's not a very romantic chap. He's successful in his business, but his life at home is—well—the kind of life I should run away from."

"You mean—he doesn't get on with his wife?"

"I should think they hate each other," Robert said.

There was a little silence till Syrie asked, "And his business? What—is his business?"

"He's an accountant."

It was with great difficulty that Syrie kept herself from answering, "Yes, I know." And again that cold little feeling touched her heart. Perfectly easy, so Robert had said; she dragged her thoughts back with an effort to listen as he went on speaking.

"You're sure to meet him—we see a good deal of each other. I think you'll like him."

Syrie turned her head away. Like him. She felt like laughter and she felt like tears. Like him. When he was the only man she had ever loved.

For a moment she forgot the man who was sitting opposite to her as her thoughts wandered back to the happiest six months of her life, during which she had managed not very efficiently to keep her job in Basil Loder's office. Afterwards she had realized why he had kept her for so long, and the knowledge had seemed to complete her humiliation and disillusionment.

"Of course I love you," he had insisted in that final agonizing scene. "You don't think you have been here all this time for any other reason, do you?" And then as she had looked at him with frozen eyes he had gone on uncomfortably, "I didn't know there were any girls as sublimely innocent and trusting as you seem to be. Anyone in the office knows I'm married—so much married," he had added, grimly, "that I didn't think it worth while to mention the fact."

Yes, it had been as bad as that. And Syrie had been forced to listen while the last shreds of romance had been shorn away. And all the time she had been thinking in dumb pain, "You don't look as if you could be so cruel—or is it I who have been blind?"

Well, it was all over now—or so she had imagined until today when fate had so unkindly wrenched the wheel of events backwards, forcing her to remember.

"What are you thinking about?" Robert asked suddenly.

"Only just—that life is queer," she said with a little laugh. "One moment you think the end of the world is just outside the door, and the next," her blue eyes defied him, "you find yourself in the lap of luxury."

"As bad as that?" he asked whimsically, and she answered firmly, "As good as that."

They looked at each other steadily, and Syrie said after a moment, "Do you ever worry about anything, I wonder?"

Harwood shook his head. "I don't—on principle. What's the use? I take life as it comes, and if you're philosophical about it, you'll find that most of it's a joke—a bad joke sometimes, of course, but if you've got a sense of humor it's even possible to laugh at a bad joke." He shrugged his shoulders. "I'm more concerned—or I was—about the arrival of Betsy's boat tomorrow than I've even been concerned about anything."

"I think you must be fond of her," Syrie said.

He flushed a little.

"Oh, I don't know—but I hate letting people down when they're fond of me—though I've let Betsy down often enough, heaven knows."

"You're a very honest person."

He raised his eyes quickly. "I hope you'll always think so."

There was a little silence before Syrie said cheerfully, "I'm going to take a leaf out of your book, and never worry about anything again. Do you know those lines, 'Take what the good gods offer, and walk on?' Because that's going to be me for the future."

"Is it Shakespeare?" he asked.

Syrie laughed. "Don't you ever read?"

"Sometimes—sporting papers chiefly. I don't like romantic stuff, if you mean that."

"You wouldn't," Syrie thought dryly, "or you couldn't have done—this," but even so, she could not quite deny the little thrill that the whole adventure was giving her, or forget that something important had happened at last, just when she had almost become reconciled to the belief that she was one of the world's failures, doomed to struggle along forever in the same uninteresting rut.

RAH! RAH! RAH!

He was hoping to impress her and had been telling her all about himself—in glowing terms.

"I hope you don't think I'm conceited," he said modestly after he had finished.

"Oh, no," she replied. "But I'm just wondering how you can keep from giving three hearty cheers whenever you look at yourself in the glass."

ANSWERS TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

THREE SENTENCED IN ASSAULT CASE

Two Negroes and White Man Plead Guilty of Attacking Lady-smith Logger

NANAIMO, Oct. 21.—Vera Johnson and her brother, Earl Johnson, colored, and Harold Moore, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault occasioning bodily harm to Enes Patama, Ladysmith logger, last Sunday morning, following a Lantville dance, and were each sentenced to six months' hard labor in Provincial Police Court.

The Johnsons told the court they had all got drunk and did not know what they were doing.

"That does not matter," replied the court. "It is a serious offence to take a man's car from him and drive him out of his course."

The magistrate expressed the opinion that Vera Johnson was used as a decoy and the intention was robbery.

"I'm limited to giving you six months," the court declared. "If the matter went to a higher court you would no doubt receive heavier sentences."

Patama is still in Nanaimo Hospital, recovering from injuries received when he was beaten up by the trio.

PUT REBELS TO FLIGHT

SIMLA, India, Oct. 21 (CP-Havas).

The 2nd British Infantry Brigade today met and put to flight several bands of rebel tribesmen in the region of Bhitani, on the northwest frontier, inflicting heavy casualties upon them.
